Deplores Session Limits

GOP Legislative Leader Disappointed Over Gov. Donnelly's Subject Selection

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. Phil M. Donnelly's special session legislative program drew immediate fire today from a Republican House leader.

The governor announced last night he wants the lawmakers to do four main things when they meet in special session next Tuesday; extend the drought emergency hay program; consider extending the St. Louis earnings tax; set up a special highway safety commission and approve 16 emergency appropriations.

Rep. Christian F. Stipp (R) of Carroll County, majority leader in the Republican dominated House, fired back immediately. He said he was "extremely disappointed" at the subjects outlined by the governor—the only one the lawmakers may consider in the special session.

"It is evident," Stipp said in a statement released here, "that the white charger has stumbled and fallen, stripping the knight of his shining armor of interest in the public good and revealing his true political philosophy.

"This is a philosophy which sacrifices funds for our free public schools so that appropriations may be made to the boards and bureaus under the governor's control; one which sacrifices hundreds of lives on our highways so that he may delay positive action by awaiting the report of a commission."

Stipp did not spell it out but it was obvious he was referring to the governor's action last year in vetoing a $9,250,000 "bonus" appropriation for public schools. It caused sharp criticism by legislators.

Stipp's comment on the governor's recommendation for a highway safety commission was a reference to suggestions by several legislators that a state speed limit law be enacted at the special session.

Donnelly said in explaining his action last night he thought the Legislature should study the problem and make its own decision on the speed limit question. Speed limit bills have appeared before several recent legislatures but all have died.

The governor also said he thought the special session could finish its work in 30 days.

But Stpp's critical statement today indicated the session in this election year easily could turn into a long drawn out political fight. Republicans control the House and Democrats have a two-vote margin in the Senate.

Last fall a special session set up the freight free hay shipping program as a drought emergency measure in five days.

Now the money is running out and the governor asked the Legislature to remove the $6½ million ceiling and the provision that requires federals to be deducted from the $6½ million total and to extend the whole program from June 30 to December 31.

He said a specific recommendation for additional state funds would be in his message to the lawmakers soon after they convene here next Tuesday at 1 p. m.

Donnelly did not approve or disapprove the proposed St. Louis earnings tax extension in his proclamation calling the special session. He said merely that the lawmakers should consider the question of extending the tax authorization which otherwise expires in April.

Neither did he take a stand on a speed limit law which has been urged by some members. He suggested the legislators set up a special 12-member commission to study this and other highway safety problems and report to the regular session next January.

In his appropriation requests, the governor gave first place to more money for the state penitentiary, which is due to run out of funds by midsummer.

He also requested additional funds for the intermediate reformatory for men at Algoa; for State Hospital No. 3 at Nevada, where the state may have to build its own sewage disposal plant; and for a new 500-patient building of the Missouri state school, to be built at Higginsville.

Yep! We Got 'Em

Yesterday, commenting that April showers should bring May flowers (even if it all happens in February) we asked if anyone had any blossoms. And what happened? Today we got blossoms. A crocus blossom forms a bouquet on our desk, sent here by a reader who has several blossoms and blooms in her yard, and who reports her neighbors, too, are enjoying "May flowers."

Increasing cloudiness tonight and Friday with occasional showers. Low tonight near 45. high Friday in the 60s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 35; 58 at 1 p. m., and 60 at 2 p. m.

One year ago today here high 63, low 38. Two years ago the high 62, low 32. Three years ago high 50, low 42.

Stage at Lake of the Ozarks: 44, steady.

Missourians Can Look For More Moisture

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Missourians can look for some more moisture.

The weatherman promises cloudy, windy, warmer weather today and tonight with occasional showers or thundershowers in the extreme west tonight and over the state Friday.

He points out there is a strong southerly flow of air over the central section of the nation and moist air is spreading northward from southern Texas.

Meanwhile temperatures will be of the mild variety with lows tonight of from 45 to 50, and highs from 65 to 70.

The state's minimum temperatures this morning ranged from 26 at West Plains to 41 at Kansas City.

Disloyalty Firings Up To Total 29

Begin Analyzing 2,200 'Security Risk' Instances

WASHINGTON (AP)—The number of officially disclosed 1953 government firings for disloyalty reasons rose to 29 today as the administration took steps toward analyzing 2,200 "security risk" cases.

The figure of 29 covers only five big departments whose officials have been questioned about security separations by the House Appropriations Committee and whose testimony has been made public. The same departments reported 437 "security risks" had been dropped.

Most recent agency to report was the Commerce Department. In testimony made public today, Asst. Secretary James C. Worthy told the committee 132 security firings or forced resignations last year included 23 persons classified as "cases involving alleged subversion or disloyalty."

Previously, the Justice Department had reported 1 former Communist among its 8 security firings; the Treasury Department had listed 4 disloyalty cases among 130 dismissals; the Agriculture Department had told of 1 disloyalty case in an undisclosed number of security ousters, and the Post Office Department had reported 166 security releases with no disclosure of how many, if any, were disloyal.

The State Department already has given its figures but the committee has not released them. Reportedly, there have been 534 security firings in the State Department figures unofficial, the committee has received reports showing that out of 971 security cases in six departments, 40 or 41 have involved persons found or suspected to be disloyal.

Announcement that the Civil Service Commission had ordered an analysis of the 2,200 cases was made late yesterday by Chairman Philip Young.

Dolan Says He Knew of Only One Kidnap Suitcase

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Elmer Dolan, suspended St. Louis policeman, told a grand jury here he did not know there was more than one suitcase of ransom money when he helped arrest one of the kidnap-killers of Bobby Greenlease.

This was disclosed yesterday when Federal Judge Albert Ridge ordered the record of testimony made public.

Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Heady, his mistress, were executed in the Missouri gas chamber a week before last Christmas for kidnaping and killing the 6-year-old boy before collecting $600,000 from his parents last September. Only half of the ransom has been recovered.

Dolan said in his testimony that he saw only one suitcase and a briefcase when he, police Lt. Louis Shoulders and a taxi driver, John Hager, went to Hall's St. Louis hotel apartment. It was not until he got to the police station that he learned two suitcases of money had been seized, Dolan testified. He is under indictment for perjury before the jury.

Parliament Gets Giant Peacetime Defense Budget

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill's government today put before Parliament a record peacetime defense budget for 1954-55 of 1,639,900,000 pounds ($4,591,720,000).

This compares with 1,636,760,000 pounds ($4,585,728,000) allotted for the 1953-54 fiscal year ending in April.

President Eisenhower's 1954-55 budget submitted to Congress last month called for the allotment of $37,575,000,000 for Defense Department spending alone. Atomic energy projects, aid to allies and other related costs brought the total U. S. national security allotment up to $44,480,000,000.

Train Crash at Quincy Crossing Leaves One Son as Survivor---

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sprinkle, 3 Children And Father of Mrs. Sprinkle Die In Wreck

Five members of the family of William E. Sprinkle, and the father of Mrs. Sprinkle, were all instantly killed at 5:43 p. m. Wednesday when the car in which they were riding was struck by Missouri Pacific Eagle No. 14, eastbound, at the Quincy avenue crossing in Sedalia.

DEAD

William E. Sprinkle, 43 driver, of the car, 315 North Quincy.

Mrs. Francis Dillard Sprinkle, 35, his wife.

Lyla Jo Sprinkle, 15, a freshman at Smith - Cotton High school.

Carol Lee Sprinkle, 9, who attended Mark Twain School.

Richard Leslie "Dickie" Sprinkle, 2, baby of the family.

Leslie Albert Dillard, 71, father of Mrs. Sprinkle, 315 North Quincy.

INJURED

William E. "Butch" Sprinkle, 11, son. He suffered a fracture of the right leg above the knee, another fracture just above the ankle, fracture of the right arm, severe four-inch laceration of the right forehead, and another severe laceration on the left knee. He was also suffering from internal injuries, bruises and severe shock. The boy's condition at the Bothwell Hospital was described as critical.

The boy was treated by Dr. A. L. Walter, Dr. John Lamy and Dr. Carl Siegel. He was taken to the hospital in Ewing ambulance.

Charles Hurt, 15, 325 North Quincy, a playmtee of "Butch," said he talked with "Butch" at the Hoppers Grocery, 1000 West Main, which is on the corner of Main and Quincy, just south of the scene of the accident, a few minutes before it happened.

Young Hurt said he asked "Butch" what he was going to do and he replied that he was going for a ride with his folks. "He left the grocery store and went home and a few minutes later it happened. I heard a crash like an explosion and ran out and saw that the train had hit something. I didn't see the accident happen, though." Hurt said.

The car, a 1948 Kaiser sedan, was demolished, being scattered for more than 150 feet up the right-of-way. The hood was first knocked loose, landing just east of the foot crossing; the motor was knocked loose and dropped about 20 feet east of the crossing. About 20 feet further east from the motor the body of Mr. Sprinkle dropped out of the car into the ditch, and the body and chassis of the car were carried on up the right-of-way and shoved to the south side of the tracks along an embankment.

The remainder of the family was inside the twisted and ripped car body. People attracted to the scene of the crash assisted in lifting the bodies from the wreckage and laid them on the ground.

Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher, coroner, said he did not believe an inquest was necessary.

Formerly of Beaman

The Sprinkle family formerly resided on a farm near Beaman and moved to Sedalia recently and was living with Mr. Dillard at his home, 315 North Quincy. From information pieced together from various persons, it was indicated the family had eaten dinner and then started for a drive.

The residence is but five houses north of the crossing.

The Quincy crossing does not have warning signals or a guard gate.

No reason could be given as to why Mr. Sprinkle pulled out onto the crossing in front of the train other than they were probably discussing where to drive, and gave no heed to the crossing.

H. E. French, 1102 East Fourth, Sedalia, was the engineer on the train and concluded his run from Kansas City in Sedalia. George D. Paul, Jefferson City, the fireman, and R. H. Hammons, Jefferson City, conductor, declined to comment on the accident.

Sprinkle had been employed at the Pittsburgh - Corning Corp., glass plant here in Sedalia since it opened. He was employed in the automatic department.

Mrs. Sprinkle formerly worked at the Lamy Manufacturing Co., and lately had been employed at Swift and Company.

Leslie Albert Dillard

Leslie Albert Dillard was born at Lookout on April 16, 1882, the son of the late James W. Dillard and Ruby Dillard Kabler. He was reared in that community and came to Sedalia many years ago.

He was employed by the City Light and Traction Co., at the ice plant on West Main. During his years of employment there he became more familiarly known as "Pop" Dillard. He retired from the company on pension in 1947 after 27 years service.

Mr. Dillard was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America.

In July, 1905 he was married to Miss Hattie Ray in Sedalia. She died March 17, 1947.

Surviving are: four daughters, Mrs. Jewell Neville, 1201 South Wagner, wife of Austin Neville, Mrs. Mary Cusick, 1308 East 11th, wife of Wilburn Cusick, Mrs. Hazel Kinney, wife of Ed Kinney Pocatello, Idaho, and Mrs. Dorothy Meder, wife of Ed Meder, Los Angeles, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Annie Stewart, wife of Emmett Stewart, and Mrs. Josie Kabler, who reside on route 1, Beaman.

He was preceded in death by his wife, a brother, Virgil Dillard, Kansas City, and a sister, Mrs. Gertie Wasson. His father died April 10, 1883, and his mother on April 16, 1947.

SPRINKLE FAMILY DEATH CAR—What started as a family ride for Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Sprinkle and family and Mrs. Sprinkle's father, Leslie A. Dillard, all of 315 North Quincy, ended in death for Mr. and Mrs. Sprinkles, three of their children and Mr. Dillard, at 5:43 p.m. Wednesday, at the Missouri Pacific railroad crossing at Quincy, near their home. The car, a 1948 Kaiser sedan, was turned into a twisted mass of metal when struck by Missouri Pacific Eagle No. 15, eastbound, and knocked and dragged more than 150 feet east of the crossing. Parts of the car were scattered all the way from the crossing to the embankment along the rails to where the car was dropped by the diesel.

All Starts from Democrat's Story---

Oklahoma Brother Locates Sisters After 40 Years Apart

James Kehn Berry, Hugo, Okla., born in Sedalia, has located his two sisters after having not seen them for 40 years, all this because of an article which appeared in The Sedalia Democrat and information telephoned to him by a Democrat reporter.

Last month The Democrat carried a story of a former Air Force man searching for his mother, born Mildred Berry in Sedalia, whom he had never known. It is believed the mother has now been found, but meantime the Air Force man has disappeared and is believed to be working somewhere in Kansas City.

This story was sent by a Sedalia relative to Mr. Berry in Oklahoma, who immediately wrote The Democrat that he was sure the mother and her sister, formerly Nellie L. Berry, located in New York City by Sedalia school officials, were his sisters. He had lost track of them when the family was broken up here in Sedalia. A Democrat reporter telephoned him and gave him the address of Nellie Berry, now Mrs. Helen L. Harper.

In a second telephone call to Mr. Berry Wednesday night, The Democrat learned that he was so excited about learning his sister's address in the first call that he was unable to go to sleep that night and finally got up at 1 a.m. and wrote to her, asking her to telephone him. That was on Wednesday, Feb. 10.

Two days later, Mrs. Harper made the call, and the report is that there was a wonderful reunion, obscured by tears. Mrs. Harper's first words to her brother were, "Is this Jimmie?"

Mrs. Harper has failed slightly in hearing, and a friend did most of the talking for her and conveyed to her Mr. Berry's words. They compared memories of their life in Sedalia, where they lived with their grandmother, Mrs. John H. Kehn, now dead, after their parents had separated.

The mother left the community immediately, and Mr. Berry doesn't know what happened to her after that. He does know that his other sister, Mildred, was put up for adoption, and he never saw her again.

When he was ten years old, his father left for the State of California and took the boy with him. James Berry has not seen either of his sisters since then. He knows that Nellie stayed on in Sedalia to complete her schooling and then left.

He also knows that Nellie married and then lost her husband and their little boy when they were drowned in the Blue River near Kansas City. She and her sister, Mildred, returned to her husband's home in South Carolina for the funeral. It was in South Carolina that Mildred met her future husband, and their son, James Wilford Johnson, is the young man who came to Sedalia last summer seeking his mother. His father died when he was two years old, and he was put in an orphan's home.

Meantime, Nellie moved to Baltimore and remarried. She is now living in New York City. She told her brother Friday that Mildred has also remarried and is still living in South Carolina.

Mrs. Harper, after completing her telephone call to Mr. Berry, sent him a letter and later a photograph of herself, and Mr. Berry responded in the same way. He said that she bears a resemblance to him, even after all this time.

Meanwhile, the search for the young man, Mildred's son, goes on. No trace of him has been found to date, although The Democrat notified the Associated Press office in Kansas City, asking its aid in the search. Mr. Berry expressed his gratitude for the assistance in ending the search for his sisters and his hope that his nephew can be found.

Outstanding Harpist Here For Concert Saturday Night

One of the outstanding harpists of our time, Miss Mildred Dilling, will be presented in concert Saturday evening, Feb. 20, a Smith-Cotton High School by the Sedalia Concert Association. The doors will be closed at 8:15 and the concert will start at 8:20.

Born in Indiana, Miss Dilling began her studies in Indianapolis. Further study in Paris, under Henriette Renie, preceded her debut there in the Salle Erad. This was followed by engagements on the Continent and in the British Isles. Back home in America, her success was instantenous also, and she has maintained her international prominence by annual appearances throughout North America and summer tours abroad.

Miss Dilling has many and varied distinctions besides her unrivaled position as the foremost woman harpist. She has what is probably the largest private collection of harps in the world, she is the author of best sellers for harp: "Old Tunes for New Harpists" and "Thirty Little Classics." She has recorded extensively both here and abroad and she is the teacher of Harpo Marx. While in Hollywood making a movie for an Artists Films series of great musicians, she also gave lessons to her neighbor, Denna Durbin.

When Mildred Dilling made a concert tour of the Hawaiian Islands, shortly before Pearl Harbor, she was presented with a gorgeous all-orchid lei. Several of the members of the committee in charge of the concert were orchid fanciers, and they each contributed their choicest bloom, so that the lie consisted of 22 specimens of the flower.

Another such tribute to the harpist was tendered in Havana when she played as a soloist with the Havana Philharmonic Orchestra. Admirers presented her with a harp made entirely of gardenias. The following day she made her second appearance there, and other fans, not to be outdone, gave her a great golden lyre, some seven feet tall, made of black-eyed Susans.

Station KSIS Goes on Air Here Today

Yates Broadcasting Company Presents Daytime Program

Station KSIS went on the air here today, broadcasting with 1000 watts of power on the 1150 kilocycle frequency, a clear channel located in the exact center of the dial.

Operated by the Yates Broadcasting Co., the station is located one-half mile north of Sedalia on Highway 65, where the building houses the offices, studios and transmitters. A circle pattern is being maintained with a radius of about 80 miles and the station will be on the air from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily.

Carl Yates is the manager and owner with his mother, Mrs. Christine Yates, Slater. Yates moved here from Slater this week and plans to make this his home.

A veteran of army service in World War II, he was recalled to serve in Korea. He was formerly affiliated with station KMMO at Marshall. During his first period of service, Yates saw duty as a radioman in France, Belgium and Germany. It was in radio work that he was recalled to serve in Korea.

An independent station, without network affiliation, KSIS will specialize in news and music. Two transcribed libraries make available over 13,000 musical selections for the station.

The building, 38 by 48 feet in size, and of haydite block construction, has ten rooms and is one of the most modern of its type in this area. Two studios are ready for use along with the office, control room, engineer's work room, transmitter room, storage room, teletype room with Associated Press leased wire equipment.

Walls are painted green with floors of brown asphalt tile. The woodwork has a natural finish. Walls and ceilings are covered with accoustical board.

Extending up 880 feet into the air, the tower actually has a height of more than 1100 feet, considering the site is 230 feet above sea level.

While a staff of 13 is planned for the future, key personnel will begin the station's operation. Included on the staff at present are:

Clarence Vogel, Slater, chief engineer, formerly with KFBS, Cape Girardeau.

Jack Eichman, Blackwater, announcer, who has had experience with KFRU, Columbia; KMMO at Marshall and KWRR, at Myrtle Beach, S. C.

Bettie Baldwin, Marshall, traffic manager and secretary, who was with KMMO.

Robert C. Spell, Alma, Ga., and Dick Thomas, Boonville, salesmen. Thomas formerly was with KMMO, KNCM, Moberly and KWRT, Boonville.

An open house at the station is being planned for sometime in the next few weeks.

Vietminhese Troops Pull Further Back From French Forces

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — Crack rebel Vietminh troops surrounding France's northwest Indochina fortress of Dien Bien Phu moved still farther back today to escape battle-seeking French forces.

Gen. Rene Cogny's troops pushed three to five miles north and west of the heavily fortified plain without contact.

Cogny, French commander in north Indochina, for several days has been sending out 4,000 to 5,000 troops daily in an attempt to draw major units of the estimated 36,000 Vietminh soldiers into battle. The rebels have been entrenched around Dien Bien Phu for three months but have never attacked.

French airmen in American-supplied warplanes strafed and bombed the Vietminh positions around the plan for the 62nd straight day.

Chuck Walch Flies Here for Overnight Stay

Charles 'Chuck' Walch, student at Texas Christian University, Ft. Worth, Tex., piloted his plane from Ft. Worth to Sedalia Wednesday afternoon, spent the night with his father, Harry Walch, and then took off in the plane Thursday morning for the return trip. He expected to be in classes at 1 p. m. Thursday.

With a number of other students at TCU, Chuck purchased the plane. The members of the group take flying lessons and have turns at using the airplane. This was Chuck's second turn for the plane alone and he "hopped up" for an all night stay at home.

Big 4 Reaches Agreement Over Korea Conference

Chance of Restoring Peace In Indochina Is Seen If Communist China Will Agree, Secretary Dulles Says In Closing Speech

BULLETIN

BERLIN (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers formally proposed tonight a Korean peace conference to be held at Geneva on April 26 and agreed that the problem of ending the Indochina war should be discussed at the same time.

The announcement was contained in a four-power communique issued at the close of the 23-day Berlin conference. It stated the purpose of the Geneva parley would be to reach "a peaceful settlement of the Korean question."

BERLIN (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, in a closing speech to the Berlin conference, said tonight the Big Four has reached an agreement for a Korean political conference and, if Communist China wants it, a chance of restoring peace in Indochina.

He also disclosed that "We have agreed to pursue the four-power search for agreement on reduction of armaments as recommended by the United Nations."

He expressed confidence that if and when the Soviet Union realizes "that freedom is not so greatly to be feared" it will become possible also to unify Germany and achieve the independence of Austria.

British officials earlier said the foreign ministers had agreed on plans for a Korean peace conference to be held about April 15 in Geneva.

Apart from the accomplishments and failures to agree, Dulles said in his windup speech that the Big Four have learned much from their meeting here and declared this has been of special value.

"It makes it less likely that any of us should by inadvertence and miscalculation do what would risk another wary," he said.

The conference adjourned at 1 p.m. (noon CST) after 23 working days and almost 100 hours of debate on Germany, Austria and the Far East.

The Korean action came after a new debate on methods of easing the complexities of life in divided Germany and after Russia refused to make any concession on Austria's continued occupation.

Earlier American authorities said the Big Four had approached agreement on the Geneva parley, awaiting only Molotov's concurrence in a clause spelling out that the meeting itself would not constitute U. S. recognition of the Peiping government.

The Geneva meeting would be the one major dividend from the otherwise fruitless Berlin conference.

In the first hour and a half of the last session the Big Four heard two new proposals from Austria for an independence treaty, listened to a flat veto from Russia's V. M. Molotov and buried the issue finally.

Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl tried to meet Moscow's demands for indefinite occupation even after an independence treaty is signed with (1) a suggestion that the troops stay there until June 30, 1955 and (2) barring that, the occupation diplomatic missions retain certain control authority. To both, Molotov said no.

Then the Big Four, nearing the adjournment gong, moved to the German and European security question for its last airing. Before them still was a wrapup of final arrangements for a Korean peace conference. Earlier today they neared agreement in principle to set one up in Geneva in April. Molotov's last word on this was still to be heard.

The proposed Geneva conference would embrace about 20 nations—16, including America, Britain and France, which fought on the U.N. would embrace about 20 nations—16, including America, Britain and France, which fought on the U.N side in Korea—South Korea; Russia, Red China and NNorth Korea.

Today—last of the Berlin talks—Dulles and Foreign Ministers Eden, Bidault and Molotov held their sixth secret session on sponsoring the new conference. They met for an hour and 15 minutes. Then they broke up to reassemble later in a bigger open meeting at which American officials believed they would almost certainly resolve the dispute over Chinese participation by making clear that it would not mean recognition.

It was also considered probable that the four would issue a statement favoring disarmament efforts in line with a resolution adopted by the United Nations last fall, which called on all nations to work for arms cutbacks.

But the great problem of German unification was without any solution and an Austrian independence treaty seemed to be in the same deadlock—unless Molotov was willing to change radically his insistence on keeping Soviet troops in Austria.

Molotov has spent much time in the Berlin Big Four meeting, which closes today, arguing for a Big Five conference including the Chinese Reds. The West has rejected this and insisted the Big Four here should sponsor a limited conference of all interested nations on: 1—Korea, 2—Indochina.

Authorities said they admitted hauling a safe from the post office and late breaking it open with a sledge hammer.

Believes Ike Economic Plan Is Just Right

Senator Flanders Agrees With Tax Recommendations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said today he believes President Eisenhower's recommendations for meeting the nation's current economic situation are "just right."

The Vermont senator said he was particularly impressed with the President's tax recommendations designed to increase business incentives by giving corporations and investors some breaks.

Rep. Bolling (D-Mo) said in a separate interview he regards it as fully as important to do some things for the consumer.

Consumption can best be increased he said, by raising the personal income tax exemption, cutting excise taxes, and speeding up action on public works.

Meanwhile, Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said he agrees with the President that March will be the key month in showing how the economic winds are blowing.

The President told his news conference that employment normally picks up in March. If that doesn't happen this year, he said that would be a warning of trouble and his administration would use every weapon available to head it off.

One of the first things that might be considered, he said, is a cut in taxes to spur consumer spending. He did not go into detail, but the taxes most generally cited in this connection are personal income levies and excise, or sales, taxes.

Ferguson said he personally is optimistic that March will show an improvement in the unemployment situation, specifically in his own state where there now are sizable auto plant layoffs.

But if there is not, he said he would be willing to support some emergency moves such as public works projects.

Flanders said he was sure the President's tax program with its business and investment incentives would bring about a decrease in unemployment.

Bolling said the present administration so far "hasn't got to first base" with any program of building up a shelf of planned and ready-to-go public works if the downturn worsens.

Manion Firing Splits GOPs Into 2 Camps

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's firing of Clarence Manion as head of one of his study commissions split Republicans into two camps today.

Manion, former dean of the Notre Dame Law School, resigned as chairman of the Intergovernmental Relations Commission, declaring he had been let out because he supports a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to limit treaty powers.

The White House had no comment.

Bricker, whose amendment has been opposed vigorously by President Eisenhower, arose to tell his colleagues "there is a threatening storm ahead when men of great ability who do not see alike with the leaders of an administration" cannot continue to serve in an official position.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) jumped to his feet to demand that "whatever accusations have been made against this fine American statesman" be brought out in the open and that Manion be given an opportunity to "confront his accusers."

"It is a dangerous age if a man like Manion can be made to walk the plank because he has fundamental views he believes in," Jenner thundered.

Manion said in a statement yesterday that a Feb. 12 demand by Sherman Adams, chief of the White House staff, for his resignation confirmed columnists' reports that he was to be fired because he had been making speeches in favor of the Bricker amendment.

"The Bricker amendment embodies a principle that I have openly supported for years," Manion declared. "My devotion to this principle was well known at the time of my appointment as chairman of the commission."

The commission, made up of eight public members and four governors appointed by Eisenhower, five senators and five representatives, recently has been seeking more time to study relations among federal, state and local governments. It was to have reported this spring.

There has been criticism of the group's failure to get ahead faster and Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), a member, said he was frankly disappointed at the lack of progress.

"It is unfortunate that Dean Manion's resignation came at this time," Hendrickson said. "I am afraid the whole situation will be misinterpreted. I can't believe he was fired because he made speeches for the Bricker amendment."

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan), who shares the White House opposition to the Bricker proposal, said he had been receiving "many letters of protest" since Manion made a speech for the amendment in Wichita, Kan, about a week ago.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt), another administration supporter, suggested that perhaps Manion was fired "because he was too conservative to be of value to this administration."

Philippines Have An 'Asia For Asians' Policy Started

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines Republic has embarked on a new foreign policy, "Asia for the Asians," which has U. S. diplomatic officials watching carefully. Up to now, the new policy has left cold the Asian countries it was intended to influence.

The policy is based on developing an Asian nationalism under the wartime rallying cry used by Japan in promoting its East Asia co-prosperity sphere.

Philippine proponents insist the new policy will not affect traditional ties with the United States. Despite this, American officials here indicate they must remain alert for any unilateral action which might affect the balance in democracy's bulwark against communism in Asia.

The U. S. Embassy in Manila has not commented officially but appears concerned lest the policy be misinterpreted in some quarters in the United States. The Philippines still depend upon the United States for aid in supporting the islands' economy and so must move cautiously, U. S. sources indicated.

The basic change under the new policy would seem to be toward independent action in foreign matters and away from the old Liberal party policy of taking cues from the United States. At the last election, Elpidio Quirino, head of the Liberals, was beaten soundly for a second term as president by Ramon Magsaysay and his Nacionalista party.

The policy switch was disclosed in a surprising manner earlier this month. Instead of being enunicated by Magsaysay or by Vice President Carlos P. Garcia, the secretary of foreign affairs, it first was proclaimed by Garica's under secretary, Leon Guerrero.

Guerrero was the "voice of freedom" during the early days of World War II until his capture by the Japanese. Later he was released from prison and broadcast Japanese propaganda.

Guerrero's first strong support for the new policy came from Sen. Claro M. Recto, wartime foreign minister of the Philippines under the Japanese.

Recto has been accused by critics of being anti-American but has denied the charge.

Vice President Garcia quickly added his support.

So did Sen. Jose P. Laurel, wartime president of the Philippines during the Japanese occupation.

Bipartisan backing came from members in Congress. But there were strong indications that the defeated Liberal party would subject the new policy to torrid debate in the Senate.

President Magsaysay has remained silent although Guerrero insists that the new President endorses it.

Vice President Garcia said in a subsequent speech:

"'Asia for the Asians,' far more than a foreign policy, is a statement of eternal reality. It is an axiomatic fact, self-evident and undeniable. It is the expression of a deep sentiment of a resurgent nationalism in liberated Asian countries."

Guerrero said it would be "servile and misguided" for the Philippines to keep on taking their lead from the United States in foreign matters.

The Philippines has considerable spadework to do in cultivating friendship with such countries as India, Ceylon, Indonesia, Burma, Malaya, Thailand, Indochina and Japan.

Diplomatic relations between the Philippines and neighbors are weak. The Philippines have established no direct diplomatic relations with Burma and Ceylon. They have not recognized the Associated States of Indochina.

The Philippines still are embroiled in a red-hot reparations tussle with Japan. These negotiations have dragged on for years.

Indonesia has looked with suspicion upon the Philippines. Many Indonesians feel this country has echoed too much the sentiments of the U. S. State Department.

Guerrero claimed the "Asia for the Asians" policy has created a "favorable atmosphere" among Asian neighbors. But it appeared too early yet to tell what real effect it would have until it is converted from speeches to action.

Firemen Have Trouble With Toothpaste As Well as Flames

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Firemen had as much trouble with toothpaste as they did with flames and smoke while battling a fire in a semitractor near Springfield last night.

"We had toothpaste everywhere—in our coats, down our necks, on our equipment and alongside the road," said Rural Volunteer Fire Chief George Bargdill. "There may be some teeth brushed with free toothpaste in the morning, but not mine. I've lost my taste for the stuff."

The truck, bound for St. Louis from Akron, Ohio, was loaded with tons of dentifrice.

Warsaw Suspension Bridge Dangles Instead of Hangs

CLINTON — The Grand river suspension bridge over state Highway 35, twenty miles east of here, which went out of commission Feb. 8, went out again Wednesday afternoon.

The bridge was opened to traffic Friday after state highway department crews repaired vertical cables and steel beams under the plank flooring.

State highway patrolmen said a semi-trailer truck with tandem caused the latest damage. The driver, J. D. Harter, 31, Joplin, Mo., was questioned at Warsaw by Glenn Means and Wayne Allman, highway patrolmen.

Means and Allman estimated the weight of the truck at eighteen tons. The limit for the bridge is seven tons, they said. The truck, owned by the Monkem Company, Joplin, was loaded with fertilizer which was being taken to the Missouri Farmers Association at Warsaw.

The weight of the truck buckled the east approach of the bridge and tore loose 40 wires connected to a bridge cable.

A crew of ten men was at work repairing the damage. R. C. Neas, maintenance superintendent, said the bridge should be open Friday night or Saturday morning.

The latest accident put Henry County right back where it was Feb. 8 when two state highway bridges were put out of working condition to the Highway 35 bridge, the Grand River bridge over state highway 13 three miles south of here collapsed into the stream after reportedly being hit by a bulldozer.

Workmen from the Universal Construction Company, Kansas City, are removing the collapsed highway 13 bridge, when the old span is removed, it will be replaced with a bridge now stored at Sedalia, 45 miles northeast of here.

Detour routes are as follows:

Highway 13—State highway 18 west to Henry County, route T to route EE and back onto highway 13.

Highway 35—Take 35 east to to Henry County route C; east to Lincoln and highway 65.

South Abell Extension Club Learns About Lighting In the Home

The members of the South Abell Extension Club heard an interesting discussion about lighting the home electrically when they met Wednesday, Feb. 10, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Thomas.

Miss Opal O'Briant, county home agent, presented the program on proper lighting and stressed that lamps need not be the most expensive to give good, protected light. Among those lamps discussed were: table lamps, floor lamps, pin up lamps and ceiling fixtures. The most important thing to look for in each of these lamps is a diffusion bowl or some type of indirect lighting, thus getting away from the glare of a bare light bulb, she said.

During the business meeting, roll call was answered by showing home made valentines. A report was made on the carnival held Jan. 23 and $46.74 was the net profit. A family night was planned for Friday, Feb. 19, at the community hall with each family presenting a number on the program. Cherry pie and coffee will be served in celebration of Washington's birthday. Everyone in the community is invited.

Mrs. W. S. Williams, from the Maplewood Extension Club, assisted the hostess in serving dinner to 13 members and eight visitors. The visitors were: Mrs. Louis K. Demand and son and Mrs. W. C. Corlew, both from the Ringen and Brushy Extension Club; Miss O'Briant, Mrs. W. S. Williams of the Maplewood Extension Club, Mrs. Glenn Miller, Mrs. N. C. Leiter and Mrs. Mason Riley.

Teamsters Rejecting 'No Raiding'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The AFL Teamsters Union today drafted a rejection of a proposed AFL-CIO "no-raiding" agreement, a move expected to kill off any early prospects of a labor merger.

The "no-raiding" pact is regarded as a necessary first step toward a merger of the AFL and the CIO that would put nearly 15 million members in a single organization. However, the teamsters Executive Board was due to veto the plan.

Dave Beck, Teamsters Union president, is openly ambitious to swell his union's membership, already 1,300,000 strong. He also was known to believe that separate alliances between individual unions are more likely to solve union rivalries.

AFL President George Meany said here at the AFL Executive Council meeting last week that 40 of the AFL's 110 unions were agreeable to signing the "no-raiding" pact. However, Teamsters Union sources said several big AFL unions, other than the teamsters, were against the plan.

CIO President Walter Reuther has said that virtually all CIO unions—except only a few with less than 2 per cent of CIO's membership—are willing to go along with the plan.

Beck was reported ready to contend that (1) other unions have more than 50,000 members belonging in teamsters jurisdiction, (2) the AFL-CIO plan can't work, and (3) it is illegal under the Taft-Hartley Act.

The plan would require that the disputes over the right of unions to organize particular groups of workers should be decided by a neutral, but Beck is reported convinced unions would not accept such decisions.

Yesterday Beck called for tighter enforcement of state insurance laws to prevent union officials from being tempted with "kick-back" offers from insurance agents and other businessmen anxious to pay off to get union welfare funds business.

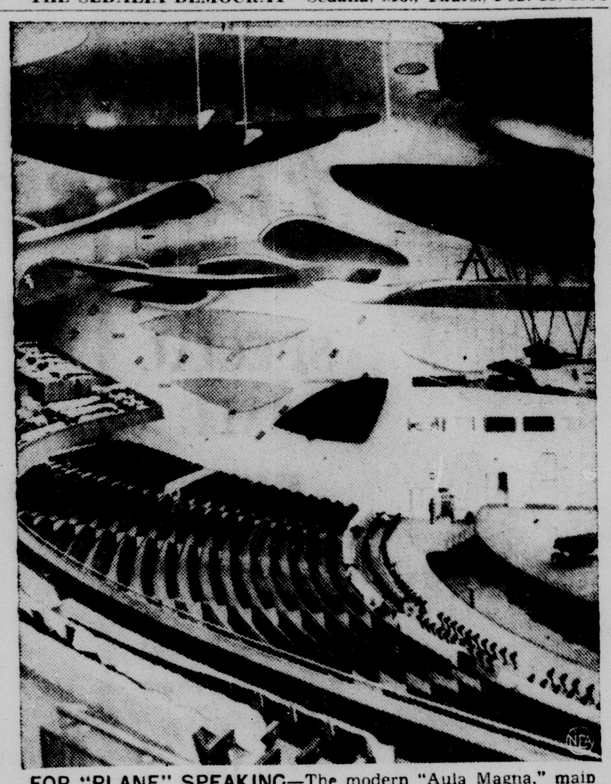

Safety Is Program For Hillview 4-H

"Safety in Prevention of Fires" was the topic on which Mrs. DeBord, community leader, chose for the members of the Hillview 4-H Club at their regular meeting held Feb. 12 in the Hughesville High School cafeteria.

Safety has been chosen as an extra project for the club and each member is to bring a safety poster to the March meeting.

A Valentine box was made by Janice Clark and a Valentine exchange was enjoyed by the club.

Jmmy Wood led the group in games and refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. J. L. Conaway.

The speaker's voice is deflected by the hanging panels and is sent in equal volume to all parts of the auditorium. Each seat has a telephone, and the delegate merely dials the language he desires to get and almost instantly he hears a translation of the speaker's address.

Film Studio Files Suit Against Brando In Contract Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—Twentieth Century-Fox Film Co'p. has filed a two-million-dollar damage suit in federal court here against actor Marlon Brando, alleging he "refuses to perform under his current contract and contemplates working for others."

A spokesman for Brando said last night that the actor had no comment on the action.

The film firm said papers in the suit were served on Brando yesterday at his New York apartment.

Brando came here from the West Coast about two weeks ago. Later Dr. Bela Mittelmann, a a psychiatrist, telegraphed the studio that Brando was under his care and would be unable to work for 10 weeks.

In its federal court suit, the studio said he had contracted to appear in the movie, "The Egyptian," but refused to show up.

Also asked by the studio was an injunction which would bar Brando from taking any other acting job for another concern while under contract to 20th Century. The terms of his pact with the studio were not disclosed.

Liberace's New Home Is Keyed To Piano In Color and Style

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Well, you've never seen a house like Liberace's!

I had heard that the wavy-haired piano pounder of TV had a fabulous new home, but I had to see it to believe it. The place is located in a quiet residential area of the San Fernando Valley.

"I hunted for a long time for a house that would suit me," Liberace said. "But all the places I looked at fell short of what I wanted. So I decided I would have to build my own.

"When I first talked to the architect, he asked what I liked. I said I liked drama and comedy; I liked classical music, but I also liked jazz. I worked closely with him, sketching out things I wanted and picking out everything down to the hardware for the furniture. "The result is what I wanted. It has drama, but there are also touches of humor. It is actually a classical modern."

Lee (yes, he does have a first name) showed me around the place and I was immediately struck by the color scheme. "I wanted it done in black and white, and this worked in nicely with the charcoal shade that is so popular now," he remarked.

There are a few other bright colors, but nearly everything is black and white or shades thereof. Do you get it? The piano motif?

You can't miss it. When you walk in the black-and-white living room, the first sight is the immense piano, the longest made. I was told that this piano would be moved aside for another. The new one, just as gigantic, will have a plexiglass top. Thus the view of the pool will be unimpeded.

The swimming pool, you see, is also in the shape of a piano. Large black-and-white keys—88 of them—are painted at one end of the pool, giving the illusion of a huge piano.

Back in the living room, your gaze falls on the large, glass-topped planter in the shape of a piano. On shelves about the fireplace were dozens of miniature pianos collected from all over the world.

We continued into the bedroom, which was dominated by a huge bed. On the cover was a large script L, entwined in a piano. To each side were lamps with bases of glass, on which were etched pianos.

The bathroom was done in mirror and black. Not a sign of a piano that I could see.

The rest of the house was equally dazzling: the piano bookends; the musical notes for andirons; the lyre-backed chairs in the dining room; the dresser knobs bearing the piano signature; the bar with spinet and Liberace's trophies. And don't forget the candelabra. They were on the piano, of course, and the mantle and hanging in the hall.

Somewhat dazzled, I made my leave, but not before signing the guest book. Uh-huh, it was shaped like a miniature piano.

Ike Warmly Welcomed By Californians

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — President Eisenhower, warmly welcomed to this desert vacation resort, looked forward today to soaking up plenty of sunshine—much of it on the golf course.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived here last night for five days of rest after a 9½-hour nonstop flight from Washington.

A crowd of about 3,000 persons turned out at the airport and cheered the couple as they descended from their private plane, the Columbine. Smiling, the President stepped to a battery of microphones and declared:

"We are delighted to be back here once again. We have been looking forward for a long time to this trip. We are delighted to be in this state."

The Eisenhowers—together with the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud—were welcomed officially by California's Gov. Goodwin J. Knight.

On hand, too, was one of the Eisenhowers' hosts, old friend Paul G. Hoffman, board chairman of the Studebaker Corp., and former chief of the government's foreign aid program.

Hoffman invited Eisenhower to Palm Springs four years ago, but the Eisenhowers actually are staying here at the Smoke Tree Ranch home of Paul H. Helms, a bakery executive.

The ranch, close by snow-thatched, 10,800-foot Mt. San Jacinto, is a development made up of 61 privately owned homes. Hoffman's place is located about a block from Helms' home.

Hoffman told newsmen Secret Service agents picked the Helms resident over his for the President because of security advantages.

"It has a closed patio, for example," Hoffman said, "and it has complete privacy."

He described it as a "very simple place" with four bedrooms. The Helms family is providing a cook and a butler for the Eisenhowers.

The President was accompanied from Washington by a small White House staff and he intends to mix some business with relaxation.

Dead Woman Is Charged With Felony, Played Horses and Numbers

DETROIT (AP)—A dead woman is charged with a felony in an investigation of the records of a Wayne County Circuit Court post.

Accused is the late Mrs. Freda Crofutt, who was the court's chancery clerk. After Mrs. Crofutt's death last September a shortage of $58,965 was found in her accounts.

A warrant charging conspiracy to violate gaming laws was issued yesterday against Mrs. Crofutt and Stanley Kulma, 32, alleged numbers operator. Investigation has brought out that Mrs. Crofutt played the numbers and bet on horses, and dabbled in the stock market as well, with court funds, officials said.

She was named in the warrant since it is necessary to name at least two persons to charge a conspiracy, the prosecutor's office said.

Landlady Philosophizes On Renting Problem

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Walter Bieberstein, looking for an apartment here, turned one down because he thought the rent too high.

The apartment house manager was chagrined. The place, she said, had been vacant five months.

"This," she said with feeling, "is what the Democrats did to the country.

"They fixed it so every Tom, Dick and Harry could buy his own home and now there's nobody left to rent apartments."

Boy Sits On Infant, No Ill Effects Seen

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ten-year-old William Welsh can be classified as a baby sitter—but not in the usual sense.

Visiting a home yesterday, William sat down on a kitchen chair before he looked on the seat. He soon discovered he had sat down on 9-week-old Charles Fox, another guest in tht house who was tucked under a blanket on the chair.

The baby, suffering no apparent ill effects, was held for observation by Sinai Hospital.

ROKs Will Bar Indian Troops

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's provost marshal declared today in the face of American warnings that he will block the departure of Indian troops unless India meets ROK condition.

Lt. Gen. Won Yong Duk insisted that India guarantee the safety of 76 Korean War prisoners en route to India and warned, "I will carry out my plan if this assurance is not given."

"I could mobilize all patriotic Republic of Korea personnel, military and civilian," Won declared. "Many will volunteer."

The 76 Koreans, along with 12 Chinese POWs, asked to live in neutral nations and were sent to India until arrangements are completed.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor warned South Korea yesterday that his 8th Army will permit no interference with departure of Indian troops which guarded unrepatriated war prisoners for about four months in the demilitarized zone.

And ROK Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai said his government would not revoke its pledge of safe passage for the Indians from the neutral zone to the port of Inchon.

The next group of Indian troops is scheduled to make the rail trip to Inchon tomorrow. An Indian spokesman said about 200 soldiers will travel along the usual route, which has been guarded by American tanks, machine gunners and infantry, plus ROK national police units.

South Korea's defense minister, Sohn Won Il replied to Taylor's warning. He said the U. N. Command, in addition to being responsible for the Indians' safety, should be responsible for obtaining assurances of the prisoners' safety.

Son said the minimum assurances asked were that the men would not be sent to Communist countries, that they would not be a financial burden to South Korea and if no neutral nation takes them they be returned.

Finds Drivers Lucky As They Are Careless

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—Drivers in this city of 14,500 "are as lucky as they are careless," the Daily Sentinel reported after a survey recorded more than 13,350 traffic violations in nine hours at seven downtown intersections.

Employing Mesa Junior College students to watch the intersections, the Sentinel counted 12,251 drivers who "neither blinked a light nor waved a finger to show what their intentions were" and 1,105 other instances "in which traffic and safety rules were flouted."

Army Chiefs Led Beria's Purge Action

BERLIN (AP) — The coup that pulled Lavrenty P. Beria from the Moscow scene was handled personally by five Soviet army marshals, Eastern sources said today.

And the army's influence on Krelmin policy, these informants said, explains in part the unswerving line that Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov has pursued in the dying Big Four conference about military dispositions in Germany and Austria.

By their account, the army has advised Premier Georgi Malenkov it cannot feel safe yet if its divisions are pulled back from their forward posts in Europe. Therefore Malenkov sent Molotov here to block troop withdrawals at all costs. Through the failure of the Big Four to agree on German unification and an Austrian independence treaty, the troops will stay put.

Details from Russian and Soviet satellite quarters presented this picture of the downfall of Beria, the interior minister an. secret police chief whose execution was announced Dec. 24.

No one apparently ever had more distinguished captors. Beria therefore never was suspicious until the net was drawn.

It happened one early summer night when Beria was the honored guest at a Polish Embassy party. Also present were Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, minister of the armed forces; Deputy War Minister Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov, conqueror of Berlin and the army's real spokesman; and Marshal Leonid A. Govorov, famed in the defense of Leningrad.

With two other marshals, they escorted Beria from the party in such a manner that he never suspected he was being given anything but the honored treatment due the No. 2 man in the government. And Malenkov was not there.

The party left in three cars. Sitting at the wheel of Beria's car was a full general who had doffed his uniform and donned that of a chauffeur.

The convoy headed first for Beria's home. Then, before the police chief realized what was happening, it swung into a prison courtyard. There the marshals delivered Beria to their own handpicked jailers.

It was a mixed eight-man tribunal headed by Marshal Ivan S. Konev that tried Beria as an enemy of the state, convicted him and ordered him shot. Many quarters believe he had been liquidated long before the Christmas Eve announcement of the execution.

In discussing Beria, the Eastern informants were surprisingly frank. It is evident that in the Soviet orbit it is now permissible to talk about Beria as long as the talk is against him.

These sources said the basic argument between Beria and other members of the Politburo was over the concept of Soviet government. They outlined events this way:

Beria, devoted to Stalin, believed that one-man rule was the only kind that would work in Russia. Malenkov and others agreed that dictatorship is necessary for Russia's masses, but said it should be a "committee" form of government.

Highway 50 Assn. Drive In Sedalia Is Bogging Down

The drive for members of the Missouri Highway 50 Association is bogging down in Sedalia, one of the towns expected to benefit most from the organization and one from which a large number of members had been expected.

This was the report of Ernest Freyman, secretary of the state association and chairman of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce travel committee, after he surveyed the work being done in Sedalia by him and his committee.

Last year the organization had 125 members in this city, and to date only 23 of the members have renewed their memberships and six new members have joined. Several of last year's members have promised they will join, but as yet have failed to do so, Freyman reports.

With many plans for this year's activities, including the formation of a national Highway 50 association, a larger membership than that of a year ago is necessary, the secretary said. It had been hoped that 250 members would be secured here.

Warrensburg, with only 43 members a year ago, already has more than 50 for 1954, it was reported.

Literature is being distributed by the organization in several states and all along the route of Highway 50. When the national organization is formed, this literature will be available all along the route from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

On Feb. 26 Freyman, with Eugene Fryhoff, Warrensburg, state president, will attend a meeting in Chillicothe, O., at which plans will be made for the formation of state associations from the Mississippi River to the Atlantic coast.

Then, on March 30, the two men and Andrew Herman, Kansas City, will go to Dodge City, Kan., where representatives of the state associations of all states from the Mississippi River to the Pacific Coast expect actually to form the national group.

Sells Blood, Puts Money on Horses

CHICAGO (AP)—James F. Hurley, 36, told Detective John Hastings he could explain why he carried a professional blood donor's card with him.

"That's how I make my living," he said. "I sell my blood for $10 a pint and then bet on the horses."

ExFBI Agent Reveals 3,000 Names of Reds

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A former FBI undercover agent, who took notes in the Choctaw Indian language at Communist meetings, told a federal court jury yesterday he furnished the FBI with 3,000 names of party members, sympathizers or fellow travellers in the St. Louis area.

Thomas A. Younglove made the estimate in the trial of five Communists on charges of conspiracy to advocate violent overthrow of the government. The defendants are William Sentner, James F. Forest and his wife, Dorothy, all of St. Louis; Marcus A. Murphy, of Charleston, Mo., and Robert Manewitz of Los Angeles.

Younglove, a St. Louis cement contractor, appeared for the second straight day in the trial, now in its fourth week. He said he joined the Communist party in 1945 and remained a member until 1949 at the FBI's request.

Testifying that he used the Choctaw language in making notes, Younglove said he mailed his reports to the FBI with the signature "SL380."

To make the notes, he said, he excused himself from meetings and retired to a rest room. It was "too dangerous," he said, "for a man in my position to be observed taking notes."

Olathe Will Begin Train Haul of Water From K. C. Monday

KANSAS CITY (AP)—They're going to haul water from Kansas City to water-short Olathe, Kan., by train, starting Monday.

The water will be transported by the Frisco Lines for the 22 miles between Kansas City's Turkey Creek pumping station and Olathe.

The first train is expected to carry 300,000 gallons in 30 tank cars. The cars are being provided by the government and the Frisco will haul them at a reduced rate.

Kansas City has agreed to sell Olathe water at 7½ cents per 1,000 gallons. The water train will make one round trip every 24 hours for as long as Olathe needs it.

Hikes 48 Miles, Signs For Naval Reserve, Walks Home to Wait

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Louis Rebillet, who lives on a ranch on the south fork of Idaho's Salmon River, walked 48 miles through 14 feet of snow, then hitchhiked to Boise to sign up for the Naval Reserve.

When told his duty wouldn't begin until March, he said he would walk back to the ranch to wait.

Chain Stores Honor Pettis 4-H Leaders

The Chain Stores of Sedalia honored 4-H club leaders of Pettis County Wednesday noon with a luncheon served at the Fifth Street Methodist Church.

The welcome address was given by Robert Johnson with invocation by the Rev. J. W. Watts, pastor of the East Broadway Christian Church.

Guests and the four new 4-H leaders were introduced by Mr. Johnson.

The response to the welcome address was given by Mrs. Howard Turner of Maplewood 4-H Club.

Harmon L. Elder, representative of the stores, gave a short address in which he complimented the fine job being done by the 4-H leaders. He pointed to the strength of the system of free enterprise and the American way of life. Sixty percent of the rural boys and girls are going to town, he said, and the 4-H work helps to develop the qualities to fit them for either the town or country. It develops in boys and girls, patience, perseverience, knowhow, stamina and courage, he declared.

The luncheon program ended with a brief talk by Merle Vaughan, county agent.

Six Floats to Open Famous Mardi Gras

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Six floats portraying famous romances of history and fiction will roll through downtown Mobile tonight to open the city's Mardi Gras.

The parade of the Order of Polka Dots, a women's mystic society, is the first of 15 processions slated for the carnival, which ends Mardi Gras Day, March 2.

West Germany Helps Support Allied Army

BONN, Germany. (AP)—West Germany has agreed to continue paying 600 million marks $142,800,000 a month to help support the Allied armies here, the government announced today.

The government said the new agreement would run until June 30.

New England Ships Worry Deep South

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (AP) — A Southern migration of the New England fishing fleet is adding a new economic worry to that section, already concerned over loss of some of its textile industry.

Segments of the fishing fleet, a vital part of the economy of New England coastal cities for many years, are moving to shrimping grounds in the Gulf of Mexico.

During the past four months the Massachusetts fishing centers of New Bedford and Gloucester in particular have seen some of their fish and scallop draggers head for the Gulf.

What is causing this southward migration?

Three Gloucester fishing captains who left recently to take up shrimp fishing at Gulf Shores, Ala., blamed their troubles on foreign competition, particularly from Canada, and low profits on catches. High insurance rates have been given as another cause.

One of the Gloucester skippers, Tony Frontiero, said:

"I can't see any profit there. I only paid an income tax of $36 last year. I have paid as much as $5,700 on one year. It is time to quit."

The Gloucester fishing captains said in Alabama operating expenses would be less and there would be no foreign competition.

New Bedford has seen more than 40 of its vessels, valued at several million dollars, leave for ports in Florida, Alabama and Texas. Unless they return, New Bedford said, several allied industries dependent upon the fishing fleet may be hard hit.

But at New Bedford, there was a feeling that with arrival of warmer weather, these vessels might head back. New England fleets normally do better financially in the summer. In the Gulf, the fall and winter months usually are the best.

Some, like Capt. Jens Larsen of New Bedford, operator of the 88-foot Gannet, found that the larger New England fishing boats couldn't operate as profitably in the Gulf as do the smaller fishing vessels, and have talked of going back to New England.

Gulf Coast shrimpers, apprehensive over the new competition, haven't welcomed the newcomers with open arms. They said supplies of shrimp aren't sufficient to take care of the existing fleet.

Zander Gives Memory Drill Before Kiwanis

Remembering names by impression, repetition and association was explained and demonstrated by John Zander, owner of United Rent-Alls, speaking before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Zander used club members to demonstrate the technique of remembering names by having 19 of them use their mother's maiden name last, their father's first name and their own middle name. The other members then listed those they remembered. Phil McLaughlin scored 36 and was honored by Mr. Zander with a book on public speaking.

Floyd Dillon was program chairman.

William Ward, past president, and Jack Crawford, vice-president, were elected delegates to the Kiwanis International convention in Miami, Fla., during May. Alternates chosen were Dr. Reinhold Fischer and Jack Shoemaker.

Guests were: Chester L. Gates, with Herbert Schrankler, and Capt. Gebhardt, SAAF chaplain, with R. C. Hemphill.

"WOLF BOY" DEVOURS RAW MEAT — "The Wolf Boy of Lucknow," who has been given the name, Ramu, puts a piece of raw meat into his mouth as he lies in bed in a Lucknow, India, hospital bed. The nine-year-old child can smell raw meat from a distance and relishes eating it. He bites it with his incisors, bolting it rapidly without effective chewing. After examining the boy, who is undergoing physo-therapy at the hospital, Dr. B. B. Bhatai, a professor of medicine at King George Medical College, said that he believes the boy had lived since infancy in the company of some carnivorous animal. Note the scars on the child's forehead. These are believed to be from bites by animals. (NEA Telephoto.)

Twain's Home Seems Doomed to Be Razed For New Construction

NEW YORK (AP)—A 114-year-old house where Mark Twain once lived seems doomed to destruction.

He occupied the home, on lower 5th avenue near Washington square, from 1904 to 1908. Earlier, Washington Irving was a frequent visitor there.

The Greenwich Village Chamber of Commerce has tried without much luck to raise $70,000 to move the house to another site and preserve the place as a museum. The home must come down to make room for a big apartment house. Demolition is scheduled to start Monday.

Butter Move Churning Up A Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's defense of lower government price supports as a step aimed at getting butter back on the American dinner table churned fresh controversy in Congress today.

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) said he agrees with the President and will begin public hearings next week on the Senate Agriculture Committee.

The House was not far behind. Chairman Hope (R-Kan) said the House Agriculture Committee will start hearings March 10 on new farm legislation, which he called "everybody's problem."

"The stability and prosperity of agriculture is as essential to city populations as to the farmers," Hope said. "Their economic interests are indistinguishable."

As the first witness before the House committee, Secretary of Agriculture Benson is certain to run into fresh squalls over reduction of butter price supports and his insistence on a flexible system of government price aid. Benson ordered the government support price on butter cut from 66 to about 58 cents April 1.

Meanwhile, the committee gave a cool reception to a Senate-passed bill to place coffee trading under federal regulation because of high prices.

Eisenhower at his news conference yesterday said he has no present thought of reconsidering the reduction in butter supports announced by Benson.

He said the new administration even considered a butter price prop reduction last year, shortly after it took office, but decided to retain the high level and see what happened.

The President said the huge stocks of butter, cheese and dairy were a warning to the public and dairy industry that this should not continue. He said the country was never justified in producing something and letting it spoil.

Reporters asked about earlier announcements that price supports on basic crops would be cut gradually, or about 5 per cent at a time, instead of the 15 point drop applying to butter.

The President replied that applied only to the basic crop, like cotton, wheat and corn, which, unlike butter and dairy products, could be stored for long periods.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), one of the most vocal of the opponents of the lower butter price props, said:

"I, too, am for getting butter back on the dinner table, but I also want it on the table for breakfast, lunch and supper.

He contended the dairy farmer cannot produce butter at the lower support level "and still stay in business."

Both Aiken and Humphrey spoke in interviews of their hopes that some way will be found to bring about consumption of the extra dairy products. Aiken, who previously estimated a 20-cent a pound reduction in butter prices would move current production and stocks, said he hopes the administration will provide a plan.

Humphrey said he favors a program to increase with dairy products the diets of school children and persons now unable to afford adequate food.

As for coffee, the President said the investigation he ordered is proceeding with a view to finding out if there are any road blocks between supplies and consumers. He said he sees no possibility that it might offend South American nations; that the government is not looking into the internal affairs of other countries.

Hope told newsmen he didn't regard the coffe trading control bill "of great importance so far as any immediate price reaction is concerned."

Sedalia Scouters Plan for Activities

Sedalia Boy Scout leaders, attending a Pettis district meeting Wednesday night, made plans for the spring camporee, discussed the conservation good turn program, outlined plans for Camp Pa-He-Tsi and considered the reorganization of Troop 55 here.

Twenty-eight men attended the meeting, held at St. Patricks School, and they praised the work of committees which handled arrangements for the annual Scout Week pot luck supper, held Feb. 8, and the court of honor held in connection with that event.

Louis Heuerman, camping chairman of the district, told of plans for the camporee and Harry Lambarth was named to be in charge of securing the location at the Girl Scout camp and handling the necessary physical arrangements.

Plans are being made for the Sedalia units to participate in the conservation good turn program.

This week a burglar entered the place and tore up the cash register. Moran, searching through the dismantled till found the corner of a piece of paper sticking up through a crack in the base. It was a check for $47—dated the same day he had come up short.

And the burglar—he didn't find a cent.

Judge Takes Roosevelt Case For Decision

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A judge will announce within a few days how much temporary support James Roosevelt, who claims he's worse than broke, shall pay his estranged wife Romelle, who demands $3,500 a month.

A four-day hearing on the matter wound up yesterday with her attorneys accusing the eldest son of the late President Franklin Roosevelt of "making false statements for the purpose of concealing his assets."

Roosevelt's attorney said Mrs. Roosevelt will have to get along with $30 to $40 dresses instead of $300 ones.

Superior Judge Kurtz Kauffman took under submission the support demands and the amount to be allowed Mrs. Roosevelt for court costs and attorney fees.

The support order will be effective pending trial of their separate maintenance suits. In hers, Mrs. Roosevelt, 38, accuses her 46-year-old husband of adultery, naming three co-respondents. She also filed letters signed by him stating he admitted infidelities with nine other women.

Roosevelt has denied all the charges.

He already is paying his wife, who has temporary custody of their three small children, $1,073 a month.

Judge Kauffman said his decision will be based on Roosevelt's ability to pay as shown by his income and disbursements the past five or six years.

The insurance executive's financial records, introduced in court, show gross annual income ranging from $50,000 to $51,000 the past few years and yearly disbursements varying from $40,000 to $79,000.

The judge ordered stipulations and restraining orders to remain effective pending trial, which will be at least eight months hence. One order forbids either person from disposing of property. A stipulation bars either from making derogatory remarks about the other in the childrens' presence.

Roosevelt also has the right to visit his children but only at his wife's home. An attorney said she leaves the house when her husband is with the youngsters.

The judge ordered Roosevelt to continue making mortgage and tax payments on the family house.

In his summation, Arthur E. Schifferman, one of Mrs. Roosevelt's three attorneys, declared: "We have shown that Mr. Roosevelt cannot be believed in any of his testimony.

"And we have shown that he is by nature so devious that he would stoop to making false statements for the purpose of concealing his assets."

In reply, Roosevelt's attorney, Samuel B. Picone, said Mrs. Roosevelt now "has more than $100,000 in assets which she never had before they were married. It was given to her by him. And now they are trying to make a criminal out of him."

Declaring that Roosevelt's testimony has "been thoroughly and completely impeached," Schifferman said the hearing indicated the "juggling of many thousands of dollars."

The attorney also declared, in reference to $100,000 Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt loaned to her son James: "We know there is some secret agreement between Mr. Roosevelt and his mother, but we do not know the terms thereof."

Mrs. Roosevelt estimated her husband was worth two million dollars. He submitted financial statements indicating he was $72,185.15 in the red last Jan. 31.

NATURE'S HANDICRAFTER AT WORK — The vagaries of nature combined to create this fantastic formation of snow suspended from the eaves of a metal roof on a building at Big Bear Lake, Calif. The late afternoon sun caused the melting snow to slide slowly off the roof. But before it could tumble to the ground, a sudden drop in temperature coincident with sundown froze the snow in this position. Shortly after this picture was made early in the morning the sum resumed its work and the formation collapsed. (AP Wirephoto.)

C. of C. Women's Committee Helps Newcomers In Locating

A meeting was held Wednesday morning at the Chamber of Commerce for a group organization of women to serve on a good will committee to assist officers and airmen, stationed at the Sedalia Air Force Base, in finding homes in Sedalia and in becoming acquainted with the town and some of its people.

The meeting was presided over by Frank Hayes, chairman. The new people coming to Sedalia who call at the Chamber of Commerce office will be requested to wait a few minutes and one or two of the women will be called to take them around to see the houses and the town.

They will be asked their interests and church preferences and will be introduced to people of the town. If there are children, the parents will be taken to the school in their district and introduced to the principal.

The Chamber of Commerce needs the listing of houses and apartments of four rooms or more for families with and without children. Few two room apartments are adequate as practically all of the families coming to Sedalia want at least four rooms and most of them want larger houses. Anyone who has a house, or apartment to rent would be helping by listing them at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Cards' Camp Holds Center Of Interest

DELAND, Fla. (AP)—Until the big league clubs begin their spring training drills in earnest next week, the center of baseball activity in Florida will be in this normally quiet city of Deland, 25 miles from Daytona Beach.

Here is where the St. Louis Cardinals have opened their special pre-training school for hand-picked athletes and discharged service players in the Redbird organization.

The site is a former naval air base which includes three playing fields, housing eating and recreational accomodations. Unlike other pre-training schools, which limit the number from 12 to 25 players, this camp houses some 100 players at present. When the advance camp ends on March 7, the grounds will be used as a training base for the top nine of the Cardinals' 20 farm clubs. The other clubs will continue to train in Albany, Ga.

The camp, which is expected to cost about $200,000 a year to operate, is in line with the progressive program launched by Cardinal President August A. Busch, who refuses to become alarmed by talk of recession in baseball. The sportsman-Brewer, who purchased the club from Fred Saigh last March for $3,750,000 and paid $1,100,000 for Sportsman's Park, already has shelled out an additional $1,600,000 for the rehabilitation of the organization and some $400,000 for new players.

"We have faith in baseball as a business as well as a national pastime," Busch explained. "It is our aim to make the Cardinals one of the strongest, if not the strongest organization in baseball. We are hopeful of winning a pennant this year. But if we can't, we feel we most certainly will win a championship within the next two or three years."

Every player in the school, exclusive of the service returnees, is hand-picked. All are outstanding prospects. Included in the list are 16 currently on the roster of the parent club. All are here for special instruction and observation.

Cardinal players asked to attend include pitchers Tom Poholsky, Joe Presko, Walter Montgomery, Eddie Yuhas, Cloyd Boyer, John Romonosky, Bob Tiefenauer and Gary Blaylock.

Softball Meeting At 7:30 Tonight: Organize League

There will be a special meeting at 7:30 p. m. tonight at the Jefferson School for the purpose of organizing a city softball league. This will be a meeting of importance for one phase of recreation in Sedalia this summer.

Election of officers for the organization will also be held.

Six teams have already entered and more are anticipated. It is the desire to get at least an eight team league and two leagues, if possible.

Tennis' Big Three And Four Foreigners Begin Indoor Battle

NEW YORK (AP) — The core of Uncle Sam's Davis Cup team—Tony Trabert, Vic Seixas and Bill Talbert—and four leading foreign aces begin their quest tonight for the National Indoor Tennis Championship.

Trabert, U. S. grass court champion and top-seeded entrant, drew the veteran Frank Shields, 1951 Davis Cup captain, as his opening foe.

He will be playing simultaneously with the defending title-holder, Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., who meets Desmond Margetson of New York, and Budge Patty of Los Angeles, holder of the French indoor title, who faces Ronald Holmberg of Brooklyn.

Rookies Lead at Bat In First Intra-squad Game of Cardinals

DELAND, Fla. (AP)—Rookies Tom Alston, Alex Grammas and Tom Burgess were the hitting leaders in the first intrasquad game of the season at the St. Louis Cardinals early spring camp yesterday.

Shortstop Grammas and first baseman Alston, two $100,000 prospects, and outfielder Burgess led a team coached by Harry Walker, manager of the Cards' Rochester club, to a 7-5, seven-inning victory over a squad coached by Johnny Kaene, the Redbird manager at Columbus, Ohio.

Dukes Grab 21st Victory In Big Year

NEW YORK (AP)—The easy sledding is over for Duquesne's talented basketball team in the Dukes' bid to go through the season undefeated.

Untested in collegiate play in two weeks, Duquesne romped to its 21st successive victory last night by walloping little Geneva 93-59. It was no challenge for the No. 1 team in the latest Associated Press poll as the regulars all hit in double figures.

Now, however, the Dukes go up against the meaty party of their schedule, starting next Monday against Bowling Green. Then in order will follow Cincinnati, Dayton, St.Bonaventure, Villanova and the National Invitation Tournament. If the Dukes can do it, they'll be the first team since Army in 1944 to go through without a loss.

Kentucky, the nation's only other undefeated team, also has a good chance to go through without a loss if they beat De Paul in the Chicago Stadium Saturday night. Kentucky, ranked second with 19 straight, has a routine date with Tennessee tonight and also must face Vanderbilt, Auburn and Alabama. If the Wildcats and Louisiana State tie for the Southeastern Conference title, as expected, they would play off for the championship.

Dayton walloped Cincinnati 91-66 last night and Villanova trimmed St.Bonaventure 79-64. Dayton, No. 17 team, ran its record to 21-5 as John Horan scored 26 points and Bill Uhl made 24.

Both the NIT and NCAA tournaments gained one team yesterday. Wichita, ranked 15th with a 22-3 record, joined Duquesne, Dayton, fourth-ranked Western Kentucky and Louisville in the NIT, and Seattle, No. 7 team, was named a Western "at large" team in the NCAA for the second straight year.

Louisville lived up to its NIT selection by whaling Kentucky Wesleyan 91-76 to make itn record 19-6, and little St.Francis of Brooklyn enhanced its chances of an invitation by trimming City College 71-51. The Terriers now have 12 straight victories and a 19-3 mark.

The NIT suffered a blow, however, when President Max Farrington of the Southern Conference announced that the conference would not change its rule that the NCAA is the only postseason tournament for members. The NIT had hoped to land Furman, if they did not win the conference title, because of high-scoring Frank Selvy's gate appeal.

Only two other top-ranking teams were in action last night. Notre Dame, No. 6, fell behind Butler 11-2, but picked up by the quarter and won going away 81-56. Holy Cross, No. 9, romped to its ninth straight since a loss to Notre Dame in whipping St.Michael's of Vermont 89-67.

Durando Just Catches, Hits His Ring Foe

NEW YORK (AP)—Ernie Durando has a simple philosophy about boxing.

"If I can catch and hit a guy, then I've got him."

Having caught and belted Rocky Castellani the last time, the Bayonne, N. J., Bruiser feels very confident that he can do it again Friday night in Madison Square Garden.

"I'm going to try and knock him out again," he said as he finished his training in Stillman's Gym. "I'd like to make it real sensational."

Told that Castellani was a 2-1 favorite despite Ernie's seventh-round technical knockout in their last fight, Durando said:

"That's okay with me. I'm the best underdog fighter you ever saw. I was an underdog against Castellani two years ago. I was a 4-1 underdog to Charley Humez in Paris last October and I knocked the Frenchman out in the sixth round. Any guy I can hit solid I can knock out."

It seems that the heavy-fisted Jerseyite has to stop 'em to win. He has won 38 of 55 fights with 15 losses and 2 draws. He has flattened 27 rivals, almost 50 per cent. But of the 28 fights that went the limit, his record is a poor 11-15-2.

Colo. vs Kansas Game to Decide Big 7 Champion

KANSAS CITY (AP)—It looks like the main event of the Big Seven Conference basketball season will take place 12 days from now when Colorado plays at Kansas.

The Jayhawks, tied again with Colorado in first place, ran their home court victory string to 27 last night in defeating Kansas State 85-74. That 27th victory before the home folks tops a string of 26 set in a four-year span ending in 1941. The present series started during the 1951-52 season.

The leaders, with a 7-1 conference record, have two league games each before meeting each other in the crucial one March 1st. Kansas is at Iowa State Saturday and at home to Nebraska next Monday while Colorado meets Nebraska at Boulder Saturday and travels to Oklahoma Feb. 27. Kansas has a non-conference engagement at home with Oklahoma A&M Feb. 26.

Kansas guard Dallas Dobbs was high with 23 points and his teammate Al Kelly had 22. K-State center Joe Powell led his squad with 19.

The Jayhawks never allowed their intra-state rivals to head them, leading 23-14 at the end of the first period and 44-28 at the half.

The rest of the conference is out of the running for top honors with only Nebraska (4-4), Oklahoma (3-5) and Missouri (2-5), in very remote contention.

Hawks Defeat Jewell

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Rockhurst defeated William Jewell 84-66 in a basketball game here last night, avenging an earlier loss to Jewell in Liberty.

The result left Rockhurst with a 12-11 record for the season and put Jewell's showing at 15-9.

Sports Roundup—

Jones Boys and Arcaro Have Horse for the Kentucky Derby

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The time has come around again to spread the alarm that the Jones boys, father and son, have a Kentucky Derby horse, and that Eddie Arcaro has promised to ride it for them May 1 at Louisville.

This combination up to now has batted exactly 1,000 per cent in the 3-year-old classic. Four times Arcaro has straddled a Calumet colt trained by Ben the elder and son Jimmie, and each time the world's richest jockey has trotted him back to the winner's circle.

Last year, for a heartening change to the other stables, the Jones boys and Calumet passed their hand, not believing they had a horse capable of running with Native Dancer. But now they are back, and this is the customary warning issued by this bureau.

Their colt's name is Duke's Lea. His pappy was the famous sire Blenheim II, whose previous progeny included the great stretch-running Whirlaway, winner of the 1941 Kentucky Derby. This one also likes to come from away back.

The reason you might have heard very little about Duke's Lea until just lately is that he ran only one time last year, in April, and didn't do any good thenM The Jones boys started turning him loose only recently out in California.

After a few trial spins, the newest Calumet threat came up to lose by a nose. Since then he has run away with three straight races, including a four-length victory in his most recent outing on Tuesday, a six-furlong affair in which he packed high weight of 120 pounds and finished eased up under Arcaro.

Now Duke's Lea is, of course, favored to win the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby this Saturday. This race stretches out to a mile and one-eighth, only a furlong short of the Kentucky Derby route, and should indicate how far the colt likes to run.

Jimmy Jones, who learned from his revered father to tell nobody nothin', is quoted from out there as saying that Duke's Lea apparently can "go a distance." Coming whence it does, that is roughly equivalent to saying he looks like a second Citation, whose earnings enabled Ben Jones to buy another bank.

Pettit Would Be Great Except For F. Selvy

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Pettit of Louisiana State would have been the talk of college basketball this season, if Frank Selvy had been out of the picture.

Furman's Selvy, of course, is the leading scorer in major college competition with a 42-points per game average and with almost every important record in his possession.

But Pettit, according to the latest NCAA figures is second with a 33.1 average.

Bob's average is higher than anyone ever has posted except Selvy this season. He is well ahead of the record of 29.5 points per game established by the Furman ace last year. Pettit also has a career average of 27.4 points per game and three 50-points plus performances, the only other player besides Selvy to score that many more than once.

Selvy, the senior from Corbin, Ky., has a career mark of 31.7 and has been over the 50 mark a half dozen times this season alone, hitting a peak of 100 last Saturday against Newberry.

Slade Bounces Right Into Light-Heavy Championship Picture

WASHINGTON (AP) Jimmy Slade, 27-year-old comeback kid, has bounced right into the middle of the light-heavyweight championship picture.

"I outmaneuvered him," Slade said after scoring a surprising 10-round decision over Clarence Henry of Los Angeles in a nationally televised bout last night. Slade, of Norfolk, Va., weighed 178½, Henry 186.

Jimmy's speed had Henry baffled through half the fight and then he added to Henry's confusion by rallying with telling blows every time it appeared he had been hurt himself.

Top Runners Invited To Franklin Mile In Penn Relay Carnival

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The pick of the world's distance runners has been invited to run in the Ben Franklin mile event at the 60th annual Penn Relay Carnival April 23-24.

Penn Athletic Director Jerry Ford was dreaming of the first four-minute mile in history being run over the Franklin Field cinders when he announced yesterday the potential field for the event. It would include Roger Bannister of England, 1952 winner of the event; Josy Barthel, Olympic 1,500 meter champion from Luxembourg; John Landy of Australia; Wes Santee, Kansas U.; Len Truex, last year's winner and former Ohio State runner; Fred Wilt, the FBI miler, and Mal Whitefield, Olympic 800-meter champ who will be making his debut as a miler in the Ben Franklin feature.

Whitfield has already accepted and Truex, Santee, Wilt, and Barthel have indicated they will compete.

Jenkins Wins Figure Skating For Second Time

OSLO, Norway (AP) — American domination of men's figure skating ruled for 50 years for European skaters, appears safe as long as Hayes Alan Jenkins of Akron, Ohio, is available for Uncle Sam's team.

Jenkins, continuing a string of American successes started by the incomparable Dick Button in 1948, won the world figure skating championship yesterday for the second straight time. Carrying on despite a fall on the snow-covered ice, Jenkins won with a brilliant display in the free skating competition.

His second triumph, coupled with the five straight world titles won by Button, gives the U.S. a seven-year sweep in the sport. Before Button broke the ice, European experts had dominated the competition since its inception in 1896.

Jenkins, 19, is only a junior at Colorado College and should be able to go for this third straight next year. Even if he doesn't, the U. S. has the next best skater in Jimmie Grogan of Colorado Springs Colo. runner-up again this year to Jenkins.

Demaret, Harper Pace Mighty Field In Texas Open, Sub-Pars Usual

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Subpar rounds were a dime a dozen today as a mighty field moved out in the first 18 holes of the $12,500 Texas Open.

A couple of old-timers along the tournament trail—Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and Chandler Harper of Chattanooga—paced the field.

Demaret and Harper each showed Brackenridge Park's regulation figures to be something of a joke yesterday as they fired nine-under-par 62s in the final tuneup rounds.

Pride Drives Yanks to Win The Pennants

NEW YORK (AP)—How do the fat and prosperious Yankees stay "hungry" enough to keep on winning baseball championships?

They don't, Allie Reynolds said today—it's not hunger that drives them on, but fierce pride.

"They thrive on the idea of being the best," the big Indian right-hander added.

It's probably the same stuff that keeps Allie himself on the firing line although he's now 36, relegated to relief chores and rolling in oil riches.

"Sure, it's true I don't need my baseball paycheck to keep me going," he said, "but this is the game I got my start in, and it's hard to break away.

"I know there was talk I might chuck it this year and devote myself to my oil business. But my oil business doesn't keep me tied down. So I want to keep playing baseball.

"I'll play as long as I can help the Yankees. When I can't, I'll quit—but you can bet this, I'll quit on top."

Reynolds had a second conference scheduled here today with Assistant General Manager Roy Hamey over 1954 salary demands.

The Yankees are said to be offering the wealthy Cherokee no more than last year's $37,500, if that much. He is reported holding out for $40,000.

"That's another place pride enters in," he said. "There's very little difference in my demands and their offer. But I'm too proud to take less than I think I deserve. It's principle."

Reynolds, perennial World Series starter for the world champions and holder of a proud 7-2 record in Series play, had a 13-7 winning mark last year but his stout relief pitching is credited with bringing the Yankees their fifth straight pennant and world title.

Yes, a most reassuring sight to the man who enjoys fine whiskey is that famous 7 with the crown on top—on a backbar—or in a window. Bar, tavern, restaurant, or liquor store, when you see Seagram's 7 Crown, you're sure of a place which believes that only the finest is fine enough for you.

Cave Explorer Has to Quit Due to Asthma

CRYSTAL CAVE, Ky. (AP) — The outside world looked good today to Marguerite M. Klein, a schoolteacher-explorer who found Crystal Caves' rugged depths too much for her strength.

She admitted she was "glad to be out" when fellow explorers in an extensive scientific expedition brought her to the outside last night over and around dangerous pits and crevices.

Samuel Aston Loyd, 30, an engineer from Waynesboro, Va., who helped lead the 27-year-old Chevy Chase, Md., teacher out of the cave, said:

"We put a rope around her to safety her across Bottomless Pit. She had to stop frequently for breathing."

Bottomless Pit is a 100-foot drop inside a tight-squeeze crawlway. The trail narrows down to about six inches around its rim.

Miss Klein is a member of the National Speleogolical (cave study) Society's three-day-old expedition into the vast unknown of Crystal Cave, which the explorers are beginning to herald as one of the wonders of the world.

The party of three cave experts who accompanied her to the surface after she became ill were picked for their ability to help her through the 1,600-foot crawlway.

The crawlway is an uphill obstacle course of narrow, zig-zagging passageways, deep pits and jagged rock.

Besides Loyd, her guides were Joe Lawrence, the society's 29-old expedition leader and electronics engineer from Philadelphia, and Dr. Ned Feder of New York City, who gave medical advice.

It was after her descent through the crawlway two days ago that Miss Klein, who suffers with asthma, had an attack which was complicated by vertigo, a dizziness brought on by excessive fatigue.

Thirty explorers, including two other women, are now making explorations of virgin cave passages and canyons. They have reported that the vast hollows of the cave, which extends for an estimated 53 miles, have waterfalls, high-vaulted cave rooms and deep pits.

Phil Harsham, a Louisville Courier-Journal reporter turned cave explorer, said: "I've seen wonders today that would astound the general public."

Thomas C. Barr, Jr., 22, a zoologist from Nashville, Tenn., reported finding a rare foundation of calcium carbonate called "moon milk," found in other American caves only within the past two years.

Explorers also found cave rooms decorated with helictites, spider-like stone projections that are the rarest of all cave formations.

Police Chief Commits Suicide After Killing Boy In Auto Accident

WOODBRIDGE, N. J. (AP)—Police Chief George E. Keating committed suicide by swallowing a dose of cyanide after killing a schoolboy in a hit-and-run auto accident, authorities have disclosed.

The 62-year-old chief, who was to have been honored by the town today for his 35 years of service on the force, took the poison in his home Tuesday about 12 hours after the accident in which 14-year-old Robert Berardi was killed.

At first Keating's death was believed to have been due to a heart attack, but then an autopsy revealed mouth burns and the presence of cyanide.

ON NATIONAL RADIO SHOW—Mrs. Glenn Cox is shown being interviewed by radio star Tom Moore, during a coast-to-coast broadcast of the Ladies Fair program over the Mutual Broadcasting System from Winter Haven, Fla. Mrs. Cox was a contestant on one of the series of programs being broadcast this winter from the Florida Citrus Building in Winter Haven.

Man Follows Woman's Advice, Murders Her

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Mildred Hunter's boy friend took her up on it right away last night when she said:

"Well, if you're going to kill me you might as well do it now. . . ."

Thomas M. Bowling, about 29, a door-to-door magazine salesman, fired three quick bullets from a .22 target pistol and killed her, then fatally injured himself with a shot in the right temple, Sheriff's Deputies Alvis Porter and Otto Manns reported.

Bowling died en route to a hospital.

The deputies gave this account:

Bowling and Miss Hunter, about 27, had been dating for two or three years. Bowling reportedly had been away from Logan several months.

Last night he appeared at the Jitterbug Inn, where Miss Hunter was seated with two other women and a man. He called her aside and said something to her which was not audible to the others.

When she told him, in effect, to fire away, he took the pistol from his belt and shot her.

The motive was not immediately apparent, the deputies said.

Seeks Court Order To Guarantee Support Of Chaplin Youngster

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Superior Court has been asked to require Comedian Charles Chaplin to post security to guarantee $100 weekly payments to support his daughter, Carol Ann Berry, 10, born to former actress Joan Berry.

In a motion made yesterday, attorney Joseph Scott said Chaplin, as a permanent resident of a foreign country "may attempt to remove all of his remaining assets from America," making enforcement of the support judgment impossible.

Scott explained that the news of Chaplin's wife, Oona O'Neil, deserting her American citizenship to become a British subject was "the last straw to satisfy us of our duty to the little girl."

The attorney asked that a receiver be appointed for Chaplin's remaining California assets until the actor posts security to guarantee the payments. The court set March 16 for a hearing on the petition. The caild attends a private boarding school here.

Approximate Cooking Time For Frozen Vegetables

The time needed to cook frozen vegetables will vary with the variety and maturity of the vegetable and the size of the pieces. Place vegetables in boiling salted water. Start timing when water returns to boil.

The following are averages: Asparagus, 7 minutes; lima beans, 7 - 15 minutes; snap beans, 10 - 15 minutes; broccoli, 5 - 8 minutes; cauliflower, 4 - 6 minutes; cut corn, 3 - 5 minutes; peas, 5 - 10 minutes; soybeans, 10 - 15 minutes; spinach, 3 - 5 minutes.

Buy Shoes for Use Intended

Pretty is as pretty does is an old fashioned slogan that might apply to that pair of shoes you are about to buy. For if a shoe does not fit you, no matter how neat and attractive it is, you'll not be pretty in it; for aching feet are no beauty aid.

The first consideration when buying shoes is to buy for a purpose. If you need shoes for work, buy them built for service. Don't use old "best" shoes with their high heels and thin soles for everyday wear.

Buy your shoes of a dealer who carries good shoes and who knows how to fit them. Just because a shoe is low-heeled, broad-capped and square-toed is no assurance that the shoe is right for the foot. It may not conform to the real architecture of your foot, or to the mechanics of the foot movement. In selecting your shoes, keep these points in mind:

Shoes must not pinch or distort the foot. They should be wide enough to permit toes to lie straight and flat in proper position.

Your shoes must permit full activity of foot muscles.

There should be a built-in shank or arch support.

The shoe should have a comfortable heel. For everyday wear from ¾ inch to 1½ inch is a good height. Many women find a rubber tipped heel adds to a shoe's comfort. Remember weight of the body is divided among three areas of your foot—60 per cent of your weight should be on the heels, 30 per cent on the outside of the foot, and 10 per cent on the inside of the foot.

Stand and walk about in the new shoes. Put your weight on one foot and then the other. Fit your largest foot.

There should be one-half inch between the end of the large toe and end of your shoe when you stand. The width of a shoe should measure the same as the width of your foot. The ball of your foot should be over the widest part of the shoe sole. To find where the ball of the foot rests, raise the heel. The bend of the sole should come directly under the great toe joint.

The soles should be flexible and thick enough to cushion the foot.

Foundation Plantings For Farm Homes

The home should be the center of interest on any farmstead. Whether or not it is depends a lot upon how well the yard is landscaped.

For the average family, landscaping is a progressive undertaking that usually stars with foundation plantings around the home. And many of the plantings are of a type that need to be transplanted this winter while dormant.

Foundation plantings are made up of those plants placed at or near the foundation of the house. They serve to obscure the foundation and blend the house in with the ground and yard. A wide choice of plants can be used for this type of landscaping. Evergreens give a year-around effect providing color throughout the winter. Deciduous shrubs, those which drop their leaves in the winter, provide charm through their summer foliage, spring or summer blossoms and twig color and branching in the winter. Combination plantings of evergreens and deciduous plants add variety and usually give the best effect.

Plants should be given lots of room to develop by placing them at least three feet from the foundation. Place tall or medium shrubs at the corners of the house with lower growing plants at their base to blend them into the building. Leave some space between the groups of plants for basement window ventilation and to avoid an overcrowded effect.

An irregular base line is preferred for shrubs planted in a straight row. Place small shrubs three to four feet apart and large shrubs five to six feet apart so they will have ample room for branch and root development. And use shrubs that branch near the ground.

Remember, the most pleasing lines and proportions of your home can be brought out by well chosen and well kept foundation plantings.

Good Tape Measure Aid to Home Sewing

Among the tools which help make home sewing a pleasure is a good tape measure. A good tape measure has there characteristics: It is made of cloth which does not stretch. It has metal ends to prevent fraying. The numbers are printed on both sides and start at opposite ends.

Teen-age Yam Queen Also a Cookery Expert

TEEN-AGED JANET RAUSCHENBERG, Louisiana Yam Queen, serves party refreshments.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Janet Rauschenberg, of Lafayette, La., freshman at Southwestern Louisiana Institute, home economics major, is 17 years old, lovely and very happy. She was elected Louisiana Yam Queen for 1954.

She doffed her glittering crown, put on an apron, and took us into the kitchen to prove her skill with rich, moist, deep orange Louisiana yams. From Her Royal Yam Highness, we present these two recipes:

Yam Brownies
(Makes about 3 dozen brownies)

Three quarters cup butter or margarine, four 1-ounce squares unsweetened chocolate, 1½ cups sugar, 1¼ cups mashed, cooked Louisiana yams; 4 eggs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup sifted all - purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup chopped nuts, ½ cup coconut.

Melt butter or margarine and chocolate together over low heat. Remove from heat and add sugar and yams; blend well. Add eggs, one at a time, and beat well after each addition. Add salt and vanilla. Sift flour and baking powder together. Add sifted ingredients, nuts and coconut to yam mixture and mix well. Turn into a greased 9x13x2 - inch baking pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Cut into squares while still warm.

NOTE: One No. 2 can Louisiana yams, drained and mashed, may be used in place of the 1¼ cups mashed, cooked Louisiana yams.

Skillet Candied Yams
(Makes 4 servings)

One No. 2 can yams, ¼ cup butter or margarine, ¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar, ½ cup maple syrup, salt to taste.

Drain yams and reserve ½ cup liquid. In a skiliet, melt butter or margarine over medium heat. Add brown sugar, maple syrup, ½ cup yam liquid and salt. Bring mixture to a boil and cook 5 minutes. Place yams in boiling liquid and reduce heat; cook over low heat, uncovered, 20-30 minutes.

Here's a Good Dessert Idea For Washington's Birthday

FOR GEORGE WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY, serve gleaming Drum Cake and cherry-vanilla ice cream sundae.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

A large white "drum cake" with chocolate cords on the side and two peppermint sticks (drum sticks) on top, plus star-studded dishes of cherry - vanilla ice cream with marshmallow sauce on top — well, there you have it for George Washington's birthday, February 22.

The drum cake idea comes from my California - born mother who was always planning parties for her children.

To make the drum cake look more like a drum, she used a variation of an old baker's trick—adding a false bottom to make the confection look more magnificent. By putting it on the inverted cake pan and frosting the whole thing, she made a two-layer cake look miles high. She made her own white cake, but today many mothers use prepared cake mixes successfully.

Drum Cake

Prepare two 8-inch cake layers according to favorite cake recipe. Put cake on top of inverted cake pan. Frost pan and cake with 7-minute or decorative frosting. (The cake pan gives better proportion to "drum"). Add food coloring to remaining frosting and force through cake decorator to resemble cords on side of drum. Use two peppermint sticks for drumsticks.

For the ice cream, you can use pre-packaged pints and half-gallons. Cherry - vanilla is a February special in the markets and it fits ideally into the George Washington's birthday theme. Here's the sauce recipe. Top with bright red maraschino cherry with stem.

Marshmallow Sauce
(Yield: 2 cups)

One-half cup light corn syrup, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup water, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 egg white, ¼ teaspoon almond flavoring.

Combine light corn syrup, sugar and water in saucepan. Cook over low heat stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Cook over medium heat until candy thermometer registers 234 degrees F. or until a small amount of the mixture, when dropped in cold water, forms a soft ball. Add too thick, add small amount warm egg whites and beat until stiff, but not dry. Slowly pour in sugar syrup beating constantly until thick and glossy. Store in refrigerator. If sauce becomes salt to

Trail Riders Saddle Club, Blackwater

By Mrs. M. R. Gillespie

BLACKWATER—A boots and saddle club has been organized here known as the Blackwater Trail Riders. Officers are president, Billie Clemens; vice-president, John Chain; secretary, Mrs. Leroy Hill; treasurer, Mr. Zimmerman. The board of directors consists of Billie Clemens, John R. Sims, Rabern Kella, Paul Huffman, Dora Heim, Jr., and Mrs. Leroy Hill.

The P. T. A. met Tuesday night. Following the business meeting, County Superintendent, C. A. Repp, spoke on Founders Day. He also presented pins to the past presidents of the local organization. They are Mrs. F. W. Marshall, Archie Eichman, Mrs. Oscar Gochenour, Mrs. Warner F. Wing. Plans were made to serve lunch during the basketball tournament February 22 through the week. During the social hour refreshments were served. The dining table held for its centerpiece a large birthday cake with lighted tapers.

The W. W. 4-H club held its regular monthly meeting at the W. W. Community Center with fourteen members present. Roll call was answered by "A Safety I Can Practice at Home." Shirley Nowlin gave a report on the county 4-H council. Committees were appointed to observe National 4-H week and to look for some type of recreation for the community center. Songs were led by Louis Topple and games by Bobby Clemens.

The W.S.C.S. of the Methodist Church met for their February meeting at the home of Mrs. Riley O'Neal with Mrs. C. D. Lueckert co-hostess. The devotional service and lesson study were conducted by Mrs. M. R. Gillespie. Following the business session, work was done on a quilt for a child's bed which will be sent to an orphanage. Refreshments were served.

Mrs. H. A. Shemwell, chairman of the polio drive for this place, reports $319.00 collected.

The M. Y. F. met at the Methodist Church Sunday evening. The following officers were elected, President, Miss Shirley Miller; Vice-President, Miss Sharon Wagner; Secretary - Treasurer, Miss Barbara Shelton. Devotional leader for the evening was Everett Wagner. The pastor, Dr. W. H. Brown, Fayette, was present. Following the meeting games were played in the church basement and refreshments served. Leader for the next meeting will be Miss Phyllis Shemwell.

Mrs. Hulda Duvall went to Winchester, Ill., last week and is visiting in the homes of her daughter and grand-daughter, Mrs. Paul Lehman, and Mr. Lehman, Mrs. Albert Herring, and Mr. Herring.

Mrs. Joe Price and mother, Mrs. N. E. Bales, Taylor Price, and Mrs. Florence Topel, went to Bakersfield the latter part of last week to see Mrs. Bales sister, Mrs. John Durham, who is seriously ill. Mrs. Bales remained for a longer visit. The remainder of the party returned home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Percy McMahan was hostess to the W. M. C. of the Federated Church at her home for their February meeting. The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. McMahan in the absence of the chaplain, Mrs. J. N. Whitlow. The president, Mrs. Archie Eichman, presided over the business meeting. It was voted to give ten dollars to the March of Dimes. The March meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Earl Brockway. The church board met the same evening at the McMahan home.

Mrs. Elliott Morris, teacher of the Junior Class, Federated Church, and her assistant, Mrs. Eddie Higbee, took the class to Boonville Monday night where they saw "The Robe."

They decided at the McCracken House not to raise coffee to 15 cents a cup, and for a good reason. Several women restaurant customers were overheard discussing plans to order just hot water and then drop in their own tea bags.

Cherry Pudding Is Basic Recipe

By Mrs. Verna Palmer
By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A George Washington supper deserves a dessert as special — and as old - fashioned — as this Cherry Puff Pudding. We're full of praise for this pudding because it's one of those basic recipes you'll use over and over again.

This old - time fruit pudding is usually called a "cobbler." When we looked into Webster to see what the dictionary made of cobbler we found it was described as "a deep-dish fruit pie with a thick upper crust." Our pudding is called a Puff because it has a feathery cake, rather than a pastry, topping.

The cherries for the pudding are thickened with quick-cooking tapioca, in a saucepan on top of the range, before they go into the baking dish. The tapioca leaves the cherry flavor unimpaired and gives a consistency to the fruit juices that is just right with the sponge-cake topping.

When we tested this pudding, we used cherries packed in extra-heavy syrup, and accompanied it with unsweetened whipped cream. It was a delicious combination.

Cherry Puff Pudding

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, ½ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, one No. 2 syrup-packed pitted red sour cherries, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 2 eggs (unbeaten) ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ½ cup sugar, ½ cup sifted cake flour.

Method: Mix tapioca, ½ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, and cherries (including juice) in a saucepan. Cook and stir over moderate heat until mixture comes to a boil. Add lemon juice; remove from heat.

WASHINGTON's Birthday dessert caps the meal when you bring on this cherry pudding.

Add butter; stir until melted. Pour into 2 ½ quart baking dish and keep warm. Put eggs, cream of tartar, and ⅛ teaspoon salt in bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater until foamy. Then add ½ cup sugar gradually and continue beating until mixture is thick and ivory colored. Gradually sift flour over mixture, folding it in as you do so. Turn onto warm fruit mixture. Bake in slow (325F) oven. If desired, garnish each serving with a small ball of hard sauce rolled in red sugar, with a maraschino cherry stem inserted, to resemble a cherry. Or serve with whipped cream. Makes 8 servings.

Confession Is Voluntary

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A Lincoln woman telephoned police headquarters with her "confession."

After a short consultation, police decided all would be forgiven—this time. The offense was running a red light.

Windsor's Katy Depot Is Being Fully Remodeled

By Mrs. Leonard Phifer

WINDSOR — The Missouri-Kansas and Texas station here is being remodeled. The outside is being covered with white asbestos shingles and an asbestos slate roof is being put on.

The north end of the station, which included the waiting room, is being eliminated. The new office and waiting room will be in the south half next to the rearranged baggage - freight room. A new loading dock and platform is being built across this end next to the freight room.

A crew of ten men has been here working on the remodeling and construction of bridges in this area since November and it probably will take several weeks more to finish the work.

This is the first major construction since the station was built more than 50 years ago.

Mrs. Bessie Taylor and sister Mrs. Jessie Wayman, Mrs. John Ferguson and son of Warrensburg were dinner guests Saturday of Mrs. Agatha King.

Mrs. Henry Stoll, Higginsville; Mrs. Ted Johnson, Sedalia, spent the weekend with their mother Mrs. John Holloway.

Mrs. Gladys Burnett, of Des Moines, Ia., is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor.

Mrs. Sallie Christian and sister, Mrs. Effie Christian spent several days last week in Clinton with Mrs. Owen Christian.

Work began last week on a new filling station on the lot at the corner of Main and Colt Streets. Dr. H. M. Wall is erecting the building and will lease it to a major oil company.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Campbell Jr., accompanied her parents Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Steincross, Harwood, to Leavenworth, Kan., Wednesday to attend the funeral services for Irvin Mayberry, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Campbell.

Hatchets Aid Friendly Holiday

CHERRY TREATS—Hatchet cookies for George Washington fans on his birthday.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If cherries are a must in your family, come Feb. 22 and George Washington's birthday, make some of these Cherry Hatchet Cookies. Serve them to small fry with glasses of milk as a special patriotic snack. In the evening, the grownups will enjoy them with a cup of tea or coffee. We like this cookie because it has an interesting texture and flavor due to its combination of maraschino cherries, coconut and orange rind. So if you want a crisp delicious cookie, that's not overly sweet, do try this recipe. If you haven't a hatchet cookie-cutter, make yourself one out of cardboard and cut around it on the cookie dough, using a small sharp knife.

For a buffet party on Washington's birthday — either at noon or in the evening — you'll find our Cherry Cluster Salad festive. So easy to make, and so impressive! We served this salad with cold baked ham, Bahama-type mustard and crisp potato chips. We also had a tray of rolls and thin slices of buttered pumpernickel bread. Our tasters voted this salad the best of its type that they had eaten, and they particularly enjoyed its creamy topping.

Cherry Hatchet Cookies

Ingredients: 3 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup butter or margarine, 2½ teaspoons grated orange rind, ½ cup finely shredded coconut, ½ cup well-drained chopped maraschino cherries, 5 egg yolks (slightly beaten), 2 tablespoons milk, extra maraschino cherries (sliced).

Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar; cut in butter with pastry blender or 2 knives until mixture resembles fine crumbs. Add orange rind, coconut and cherries; toss lightly until ingredients are well mixed. Combine egg yolks and milk; add to cherry mixture and mix well. Roll dough out on lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth to ⅛ - inch thickness. Cut into hatchet shapes and place on greased baking sheets about an inch apart. Decorate with extra cherry slices, if desired. Bake in moderate (350 F) oven 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes about 7 dozen cookies.

MAYONNAISE TOPPING makes this cherry cluster salad something to help celebrate.

Cherry Cluster Salad

Ingredients: One 14 - ounce can (No. 211) pineapple chunks, 2 packages cherry gelatin, 2 cups very hot water, 1 cup cold water, ½ cup drained chopped maraschino cherries, ½ cup chopped walnuts, two 3 - ounce packages cream cheese, 1 cup real mayonnaise, ¼ cup milk, whole cherries and watercress or mint.

Method: Drain pineapple, reserving juice. Dissolve gelatin in very hot water; add cold water and pineapple juice; stir well. Place in refrigerator until slightly thickened. Fold in pineapple chunks, cherries and walnuts; turn into a 1½ quart mold or an 8 - inch square pan and return to refrigerator until firm. When firm, unmold onto serving plate. Meanwhile, allow cream cheese to soften; blend in mayonnaise gradually. Add milk and beat with rotary beater until fluffy. Spread topping on salad and garnish with clusters of whole cherries, watercress or mint leaves. If watercress is used, place extra sprigs around salad. Makes 8 servings.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood---

Lex Barker Quits Tarzan Role To Play Westerns for U-I

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lex (Tarzan) Barker is turning in his loincloth for boots and saddles.

The handsome actor will no longer be flexing his muscles in the jungle. From now on, his dialogue will be "Head 'em off at the crossroads," instead of "Me Tarzan; you Jane."

He has signed a seven-year contract with Universal-International, which is news in itself. Not for many months has any studio signed any established player to an exclusive deal. U-I specializes in action pictures, especially Westerns, and that's all right with Lex.

"That's the kind of picture I want to do," he said. "I like working outdoors. Besides, I think a big man looks silly in indoor pictures. A fellow like John Wayne looks much better on a horse than in a business suit."

Barker was the 10th of the Tarzans, and his resignation from the series means that producer Sol Lesser will have to start hunting for an 11th ape man. The actor explained the reason for the split:

"I figured at this point in my career I ought to be able to enjoy a little more profit from doing the pictures. Mr. Lesser didn't see it that way. So I signed with U-I.

"But I am grateful to him for exposing me to the public—and I do mean exposing. I readily admit that the series was a great thing for me. Traveling to Europe and Mexico made me realize how tremendously popular Tarzan is."

So much so that the foreigners passed up his bride, a girl named Lana Turner, in order to get his autograph. That was partly due to her new brunette hair shade, which makes her look unlike the Lana film audiences know.

"Lana was delighted when the fans failed to recognize her," Lex said. "There are two stages in star's career. The first is when he's starting out and is wild to have someone ask for an autograph. The second is when he's happy to go somewhere and not be recognized."

That's why Lana likes her new hair. Her husband likes it too—says it makes her look softer.

U-I has big things planned for Lex. The studio's programming has been built around three stars—Rock Hudson, Tony Curtis and Jeff Chandler—and a new boy is needed to avoid a sameness of product.

Democrat Top Senators Are Cool Toward Stevenson

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Though the Democratic leaders of the Senate are supposed to be among the top-ranking leaders of fthe Democratic party, they came close to boycotting the gala Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner to be held in Miami March 6 rather than appear on the same platform with the party's head, Adlai Stevenson.

Inside fact is that the trio who run the Democratic side of the Senate—Minority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic whip Earle Clements of Kentucky and Sen. Dick Russell of Georgia, the real power behind the scenes—are secretly grooming their own candidate, Missouri's handsome, able Stuart Symington.

Therefore, when Stevenson accepted an invitation to head the celebrity list at the Miami Beach dinner, the Johnson-Clements—Russell group seriously debated whether they should attend. Their bright young political disciple, Sen. George Smathers of Florida, who got the assignment of introducing Stevenson, also considered whether he should go through with it or turn the job over to ex-Sen. Claude Pepper, leader of Florida's Liberal faction. Smathers was in a difficult position because Pepper seems almost certain to run against him in 1956.

All these political implications were solemnly weighed by Johnson, Clements, Russell, Symington and Smathers at an island hideaway off the coast where they spent four days of fishing and political angling. In the end, they decided that appearing in the same spotlight with Stevenson would not necessarily constitute an endorsement of him for renomination in 1956. They also agreed to make the March 6 dinner a great show of Democratic unity with Democrats of all political shades slapping backs and breaking bread together.

Note — Meanwhile, the Stevenson-appointed Democratic National Chairman, Steve Mitchell, has been playing up to the conservative southern wing. He has deliberately cold-shouldered the liberal elements in the South, and has even gone out of his way to boost Senator McClellan of Arkansas who backed Strom Thurmond of South Carolina against President Truman in 1948.

Friends At Court

Scott McLeod, the State Department security officer who brought a storm of Democratic wrath down on his head as a result of his Lincoln Day speeches, has had wrath brought down inside the State Department for some time.

One wrath-provoking incident occurred some months ago when McLeod wanted to move his personal furniture from one house to another and drafted two members of the State Department security organization to help. The moving occurred on a Saturday afternoon and the two men were paid overtime. They were paid, furthermore, not by McLeod but by the State Department.

When this writer queried the State Department regarding this highly unusual, if not illegal transaction, the official reply was "No comment." Finally, and following publication of the above facts, it was learned that McLead had called in the two State Department men, asked them to refund the original payment to the government, and he substituted his own personal check.

Following this, McLeod arranged to give the Chief of Police of Hanover, N.H., Andrew Ferguson, an expensive junket to Europe, also at the taxpayers' expense.

Ferguson, whose family came from Scotland, wanted a trip back to the old country last summer, so McLeod, who used to work for the late Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, appointed the Police Chief as an alleged guard to a State Department courier. The courier was quite able to protect himself, had done so before in the past. Furthermore, he was not going to an Iron-Curtain country, but to such safe and friendly countries as France and Germany.

However, McLeod arranged for the New Hampshire police chief to take this nice trip to Europe—at a cost of about $2,500.

Other bureaucrats might have trouble using State Depjartment personnel to move their furniture or to send a friend on a European trip, but McLeod happens to have been the former assistant to Senator Bridges, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee whb helps allocate funds to the State Department. Another McLeod friend is Sen. Joe McCarthy, also a member of the appropriations committee. When a bureaucrat has two powerful friends on the appropriations committee he is sometimes above State Department discipline.

Alienating India

Though it happens to be on the other side of the globe, a forthcoming American policy move in Pakistan may be as important as the loss of China to the free world. Some observers fear that the proposed military pact with Moslem Pakistan will alienate the second most populous nation in the world—India.

Among the observers returning from India with this fear is Congressman Emanuel Celler of New York who had a significant interview with Premier Nehru. In it the Indian leader vigorously warned against the U.S.-Pakistan military alliance.

"Look at the advantages you could gain if you spent the same amount of money in helping Pakistan economically instead of helping her militarily," Nehru told Celler.

"Instead, what you are doing will cost India a lot of money. It will upset my five-year plan. For, when Pakistan builds up its army, I have to build up the Indian army to meet the threat from the north. That takes money out of our economy."

"But is India equipped to resist Russian aggression?" Congressman Celler asked.

"We have a sufficient army," Nehru replied.

"What size?"

"About half a million men,' said Nehru, adding, "but more important we have the Himalayas for protection. Do you know how the Chinese bring in supplies for their troops on the Tibetan border- They bring them in through Calcutta and across India. They cannot get supplies across the Himalayas to supply their own troops. So how, then, could they stage an attack?"

"But there is the Khyber Pass," suggested Congressman Celler, "and also you have the example of the Chinese invasion of Tibet."

"Yes," replied Premier Nehru, pulling a document from his desk, "but your State Department ruled that Tibet was Chinese. So how can you expect us to argue with them about taking it over. Of course, your State Department made this ruling when Chiang Kai-Shek was in power, and here is a copy of the diplomatic note. But having ruled that it was Chinese once, you have to take the consequences, and so does India."

Congressman Celler left India with the impression that the proposed U.S. military alliance with Pakistan was going to cause us a lot more headaches than is realized by Vice President Nixon, the man who strongly recommended it to Eisenhower.

Complete Cure Cannot Be Promised for Spinal Arthritis

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Mrs. L. writes that she has had spondylitis for a long time and wants to know if this is the same as arthritis of the spine. Actually, spondylitis is defined as inflammation of a vertebra, but there are several varieties both of spondylitis and of arthritis of the spine. For practical purposes they can be considered together.

The cause of some types of arthritis of the spine (tuberculosis arthritis for example) is known and the cause of others is not. In some cases an arthritis of the spine may become far advanced before producing any symptoms. In others symptoms appear almost before the condition can be diagnosed by x-ray or other methods.

One form of arthritis of the spine is that which is fairly common in elderly people and in people who are overweight. This is a sort of bone degeneration and is not accompanied by true inflammation.

When symptoms are produced, however, there is no good method of restoring the spinal joints completely to normal. The treatment must, therefore, be aimed at relieving the symptoms of pain and stiffness in so far as that is possible. A back brace can be helpful. The use of a stiff mattress or a board under the mattress is also commonly recommended. Sometimes heat, massage, or other measures of physical therapy bring about considerable relief.

There is one kind of spinal arthritis much more common in young men than women and not particularly likely to develop in older years.

This form of spinal arthritis is a most unpleasant one. It causes a good deal of pain and stiffness. After many years it causes a complete stiffening of the spine — called poker spine — and then the pain disappears.

No Sure-fire Treatment

Treatment is still uncertain although some have reported good results with X-ray treatments. A few patients have been treated with cortisone or ACTH with good results, at least at first.

Any person with an arthritis of the spine must have an accurate diagnosis which can only be obtained by careful examination and by X-rays. When this has been done the most promising line of treatment can be started. But one cannot expect too much at present, at least in some forms of spinal arthritis.

Regional Libraries an Answer

Missouri has become one of the leading states west of the Mississippi in the development of county-wide and regional libraries. Still the job has hardly begun. One of these, of course, is the Boonslick Regional Library, which operates out of Sedalia and Boonville. The Missouri Libraries Planning committee estimates that half the people of the state lack minimum facilities, with one million Missourians having no library service at all.

Ironically it is the small town and rural districts, removed from educational and recreational facilities, which are also without books. Many of these areas are too thinly populated to warrant a library. Then how are these people to obtain books? Two answers have been forthcoming. First it was the county library, but now that idea is giving away to the regional plan.

In six sections of Missouri two or more counties have joined forces to establish a regional system. Most important are the advantages of economy and better service. Every dollar saved on overhead and administration can be put into more books. Also the more-expansive less-used titles can be circulated from town to town.

But the biggest gain is in farm areas. By use of a bookmobile, operating on a schedule of short stops in hamlets and at crossroads, thousands of persons now for the first time have convenient library service. Another feature is the system of small book stations in small communities. Open for only a few hours at a time, these outlets contain several thousand titles sent out by the regional library. The actual number of books is small, but each reader can put in a request for any book in the system.

Every citizen in this state is entitled to access to current reading material and a variety of titles to select from. A big job is ahead, but the progress is encouraging.

Manners Make Friends

"I like the Browns but I almost dread going to their house because they make it so difficult for guests to leave when they want to." Don't ever let that be said of you.

Hospitality means making guests welcome—not making guests welcome—not making them feel like ingrates for leaving when they think they have to.

Your beauty shop operator works on a tight schedule. So if your appointment is for nine o'clock, don't think it is all right if you arrive at ten after. One late customer can throw an operation off schedule for a whole day. Be courteous enough not to be the customer who ruins the schedule.

The World Today—

No Answer to No. 1 Mystery

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration apparently does not know the answer to the No. 1 mystery of the moment: how many of the 2,200 ex-government workers listed as security risks were Communists?

Individual agencies may know many Communists each of them found. But the administration, it seems, has neither rounded up the total nor separated the Communists who were fired or resigned from those let out for other security reasons.

Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, said yesterday he has asked all department heads to analyze their security separations and break them down into four categories. This still may not give a full breakdown.

But it should provide the administration with a little clearer information about the problem than its present jumble of categories, which in some agencies number as many as 15 or 20.

The administration still hasn't said it will make public the total number of Communists found, since it took over from the Democrats a year ago, even after Young gets all the information he asked for.

Newsmen repeatedly have asked for a breakdown. Democrats have demanded it until now, frustrated, they are calling for a congressional investigation. It is an issue building up to a heat which may become explosive.

This is the background:

On April 27, 1953, President Eisenhower announced a new program, a successor to one set up years before by former President Truman, to look for and get rid of government workers who were disloyal or considered security risks.

Truman's program was really two programs in one: (1) loyalty—for firing employes of questionable loyalty and (2) security—for firing people who might be a risk to government security, like drunks or others who talked too much or homosexuals who might be blackmailed into giving away secrets.

Eisenhower's program telescoped those two programs into one, called the security program: there was no more distinction between questionable loyalty and security risk.

A man could be classified as a security risk, and therefore fired, if he was a Communist, fellow-traveler, a drunk, blabbermouth, homosexual or came under any one of a number of other forbidden categories.

And there was another great distinction:

The Truman loyalty program covered all government workers. That is, no matter what job he held in government, high or low, a man found to be a Communist, for instance, could be fired on loyalty grounds.

But, under the Truman program, a man could be fired as a security risk only if he worked in a few agencies which had big secrets involving national security, such as the State and Defense departments, and the Atomic Energy Commission.

But the Eisenhower security program applied to the whole government. A man found to be a security risk, although not disloyal, could be fired no matter where he worked in the government.

And all department heads were instructed to report their security cases to the Civil Serive Commission. Last October Young made a report to the White House which, on Oct. 23, said 1,456 security risks had been dropped.

Democrats eventually would have asked how many of the fired people were Communists since the Republicans had made Communists in government an issue in the 1952 campaign and were going to use it in this year's election.

But the Democrats began demanding an answer when some Republicans went beyond the simple White House statement—that 1,456 security risks were fired—and began implying most of them were Communists.

For instance, Bernard M. Shanley, Eisenhower's special counsel, said in a speech Nov. 6 that 1,456 "subversives have been kicked out of the government." Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) followed this up by saying practically all of the 1,456 were fired for Communist connections or homosexuality.

Later in his State of the Union message Jan. 7 Eisenhower said security risks dropped from the payroll now totaled 2,200.

Newsmen asked Eisenhower for a breakdown. He referred them to Atty. Gen. Brownell, who had developed the present security program. Brownell refused a breakdown and referred newsmen to Young. Young refused an answer and referred them back to the White House.

Then the Democrats' demands for an answer grew louder.

Americanism Recollections Of American's Americanism

NEW YORK (AP)—What is America? What does it mean to be an American?

This is "Americanism week," and these questions are being discussed from pulpit and platform. Yet they are questions that each man must search his own heart through to find his own answers.

And many answers have been given since Patrick Henry said in a speech in the Continental Congress on Sept. 5, 1774: "I am not a Virginian, but an American."

Just to refresh your own thinking, here are some observations, serious and not so serious, about the land of the free and the home of the brave:

"The next Augustine age will dawn on the other side of the Atlantic. There will perhaps be a Thucydides at Boston, a Xenophon at New York"—Horace Walpole, 1774.

"I am willing to love all mankind, except an American"—Samuel Johnson.

"...Knavery seems to be so much the striking feature of its (America's) inhabitants that it may not in the end be an evil that they will become aliens to this kingdom"—King George III, 1782.

"Our reliance is in the love of liberty which God has planted in us. Our defense is in the spirit which prized liberty as the heritage of all men, in all lands everywhere"—Abraham Lincoln.

"Sometimes people call me an idealist. Well, that is the way I know I am an American. America is the only idealistic nation in the world"—Woodrow Wilson.

"Most Americans are born drunk. ...They have a sort of permanent intoxication from within, a sort of invisible champagne ... Americans do not need to drink to inspire them to do anything"—

"This will never be a civilized country until we expend more money for books than we do for chewing gum"—Elbert Hubbard.

"The first requisite of a good citizen in this republic of ours is that he shall be able and willing to pull his own weight"—Theodore Roosevelt.

"The American people never carry an umbrella. They prepare to walk in eternal sunshine"—Alfred E. Smith.

"The less we have to do with the enmities of Europe the better. Not in our day, but at no distant one, we may shake a rod over the heads of all, which may make the stoutest tremble. But I hope our wisdom will grow with our power, and teach us that the less we use our power the greater it will be"—Thomas Jefferson.

"He defeated the Americans with great slaughter"—inscription on the tomb of Lord Cornwallis, who surrendered at Yorktown.

"Put none but Americans on guard tonight"—George Washington.

"The desire for riches is their ruling passion"—Duc de la Rochefoucault-Liancourt, after a visit here in 1798.

"To rouse (the Americans') eager interest, their distinguished consideration and their undying devotion, all that is necessary is to hold them up to the ridicule of the rest of the universe. Dickens won them to him forever by merciless projections of typical Americans as windbags, swindlers and assassins"—Bernard Shaw.

"America is a tune. It must be sung together"—Gerald Stanley Lee.

Come A-Smokin'

HAULING up burly shoulders Crafkin spat and said as one scattering his pearls before swine, "If Luke Usher had run into what this guy did that first night he'd have been gone before sun-up. Luke—the real Luke—never had the kind of nerve that goes with the things this bird has been pulling. Moreover Krantz came out from the Red Horse, just before you rode up, with a sample of this jasper's signature; he spells it the same but it ain't Luke's writing. Luke Usher's hair wasn't sandy. It was the color of the streak down his back."

"Churk! You up there, Churk?"

"Ryerson," Crafkin muttered; and the hidden man saw his short and broad shape wheel its horse toward the rim to call, "Yes, sir. You had better come up."

Marratt didn't wait to hear anything further. He knew if he were ever to get away from here alive, now was the time to make his try while the sounds of Ryerson's approach could help to cover his departure.

He slipped off his spurs and left them, moving cautiously down the ink-black slope, the progress of Ryerson's climbing horse serving to keep him headed in the right direction. Once he tripped and came within an ace of stumbling but met and passed the Wineglass owner without discovery. It made his neck hair bristle to see the vague outline of Clagg's partner within six feet of him and, despite his ultimatums, not be able to raise a hand.

While the echoes were still slamming sound through the hollow he went forward in a cat-footing crouch until he saw the head and shoulders of the Wineglass vaquero against the distant shine of stars.

Then, before Marratt could gain a position from which a leap would hold out any chance of success, the man got out of the saddle.

Marratt could not see him now but he could see the saddled back of the man's horse coming toward him. The animal sensed his presence and would not come any nearer. The man growled in Spanish and abruptly went still as though listening and staring. Marratt kept still, too, hardly daring to breathe, until he heard the man start to back off with his horse; then he lunged for him.

Marratt slugged the man with a rock-weighted fist and grabbed the reins from his hand as the fellow went down. The horse tried to jerk free but Marratt dug in his heels. When the horse quit fighting Marratt swiftly stooped and got the man's gun and shell belt, buckled the latter around him and, catching up the fellow's chin-strapped sombrero, thrust a foot in the stirrup and swung aboard.

• • •

THE first gray pallor of false dawn was in the air when Marratt's appropriated Wineglass gelding brought him, via Jake's south 40, into sight of the dilapidated Usher headquarters. Kid Boots, of the saturnine eyes and fast pistol, was being awfully quiet. Playing cagey, Marratt imagined until he recalled the inclination of Indian curs toward barking.

He remembered then with an irascible dissatisfaction several other things—the way Boots had targeted that scrap iron hasp and the quietness with which he'd put his things in Jake's bedroom. A really smart man would have been a little more careful. He'd not have lied about the dog which Boots had said looked to him like anyone's pooch that would call it. Sure enough, the dog had come straightaway to Marratt's whistle, but he hadn't that first time. The dog hadn't come at the tank when the girl had asked, "What dog?" And there were Crafkin's remarks to match it.

He turned the Wineglass bronc toward the nearest of the pole enclosures and swung down when he reached it for a look through the bars. The hired man's horse was there but the uncut gray he'd got from Isham was gone.

He dropped the reins and turned around and rummaged the yard with a probing stare.

But again the cold jitters inside him howled protest and his feet slowed and stopped in the sound-muffling grass 30 feet from the edge of its weather-warped planks.

"Come on. Don't stop there." The voice, smoothly ominous, came out of the shadows where he'd left Boots sitting. Only it wasn't Boots' voice.

• • •

MARRATT, in extreme disgust, scanned his chances and growled resignedly, "All right." There was no percentage in trying to beat the drop of an unseen firearm and the man's hands held one or he'd have played this different. "Keep your shirt on." Marratt grumbled, and stepped bitterly forward until the voice bade, "Far enough. Now turn around and shuck that gun belt."

This wasn't Crafkin. It wasn't Gainor.

He did as he'd been told and, when the gun-weighted belt hit the ground, his captor ordered, "Strike a match, mount the steps and go inside and get a lamp lit."

Because he hadn't much choice, Marratt, rasping a match across the hip of his Levis, climbed onto the porch and moved into the house. He found the lamp.

It wasn't the gun which caught Marratt's stare but the bright flash of metal on the pocket of his shirt.

"A real pleasure, Mr. Usher," declared Bella Loma's marshal, a mocking grin pulling back the leathery lips from mossy teeth. "Jail for you, boy, and talk ain't goin' to help you."

Eleven million cups of tea. That's how many Charles F. Hutchinson has drunk. He's dean of tea experts and for 40 years was supervising United States Tea Examiner for the Food and Drug Administration. Because coffee prices are skyrocketing, Hutchinson's advice about tea-making takes on economic significance for many households.

Since 1945, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics, the price of coffee has jumped 200 per cent as against 35 per cent for tea. Today, a cup of coffee in the home costs approximately three and a half times as much as a cup of tea. The actual figures are coffee, 5.2 times as much as loose tea, or 2.6 times as much as tea-bag tea. Loose tea is more economical than tea - bag tea. Hutchinson claims he has discovered the perfect loose-tea maker. It's new on the market, made of heat resistant glass, stainless steel and bakelite.

Designed to take tea making out of the kitchen and into the dining or living room, it comes in 4 models: 1 to 4 cups, 3 to 8 cups, 2 to 6 cups, and ½ gallon iced-tea maker.

The new tea maker has a stainless steel infusion basket, with 4000 holes, allowing water to circulate freely and permitting full expansion of each leaf of the loose tea. The infusion basket banishes job of scouring tea leaves out of the pot and insures a uniform brew. For tea bag users, Hutchinson gives this expert advice: A bag holds exactly enough tea to make exactly one cup.

Use rapidly boiling water, 1 tea bag per cup plus one for the pot. Allow 3 to 5 minutes for brewing.

Although the best tea is made in a teapot, it's easy to turn a teacup into a teapot. Simply place the saucer over the cup during brewing. Resist dunking the tea bag up and down in a cup or teapot.

Color is no true indication of tea. Some strong teas brew light and some weak teas brew dark. Milk is better than cream with tea because it lets the true flavor of tea come through. Lemon adds a delightful flavor to tea.

THINK OF IT! WONDERFUL BERRY JAM MADE ANYTIME . . . FOR 15c A GLASS!

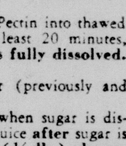

WITH FROZEN BERRIES . . . AND WITHOUT COOKING . . . with amazing new uncooked jam recipes developed exclusively by M.C.P. Jam and Jelly PECTIN! But, you say . . . frozen berries are expensive. They are . . . yet, this fine, economical M.C.P. recipe (below) makes more than 13 (½ lb.) glasess for less than 15c a glass! And what extra delicious jam it is! . . . for it has ALL the natural berry flavor and color because cooking and boiling are eliminated! Make some today!

Uncooked Berry Jam Recipe*
(Using Frozen Strawberries or Red Raspberries)
3 — 16 oz., or 4 — 12 oz., or 5 — 10 oz. packages

1. Partially thaw the frozen berries and put them in a 2 or 4 quart kettle. Using a potato masher, crush berries thoroughly to obtain enough liquid to dissolve the pectin. Place kettle over slow fire and warm to 100°F. (or temperature you'd use for baby's milk). No hotter, please! Remove from fire.
2. Sift 1 package (3½-oz.) M.C.P. Jam and Jelly Pectin into thawed berries, stirring vigorously. Set aside for at least 20 minutes, stirring occasionally to assure that pectin is fully dissolved.
3. Stir in 1 cup light corn syrup, and stir well.
4. Now, stir in 6 level cups beet or cane sugar (previously and accurately measured). Mix well.
5. With Red Raspberries the jam is ready to eat when sugar is dissolved. With Strawberries, add ¼ cup lemon juice after sugar is dissolved; mix well. Makes 5 full pints or 13 (½ lb.) glasses.

NOTE: If jam is to be kept for a time, put in pint jars or paper cartons, well covered (no paraffin needed), and chill for 24 hours in deep freeze, or freezing or ice cube compartment of refrigerator. Then, store as you would milk, and use as desired. Never store these jams on pantry shelf. They will not keep without refrigeration.

CUT OUT AND KEEP THIS RECIPE!

Missouri REA Annual Meeting Will Be Next Week

JEFFERSON CITY — Missouri farmers are expected to get a preview of the Eisenhower administration's power marketing policy for the Southwest when Fred G. Aandahl, assistant secretary of the interior, comes here next week to speak at the annual meeting of the Missouri State Rural Electrification Association.

Sale of the vast output of power from federally developed Bull Shoals, Norfork and other dams in this area has been a major issue from Missouri farms to the halls of Congress and federal courts in Washington.

The Missouri Basin power criteria, announced by interior last fall, aroused a storm of protests among rural electric cooperative officials that swept from Basin states to every corner of the country. Aandahl has said that the policy for the Southwest will not necessarily be the same as that prescribed for the Missouri Basin.

MSREA President B. M. Seaman, a Macon County farmer, has urged all rural electric leaders to attend the meeting to get first hand what the administration plans for meeting the expanding power needs of those entitled to receive power from federal sources under the law.

Your eyes have a tendency to grow nearsighted in dim light.

State Postpones Scheduled Grand Jury Inquiry

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A scheduled St. Louis County grand jury inquiry into an alleged $1,500 payoff to a deputy sheriff by a midwife hoping to escape prosecution has been postponed indefinitely.

Prosecutor Stanley Wallach announced last night the inquiry, set to open today, had been deferred until further notice at the request of assistant Missouri Attorney General Fred Howard. The reported payoff is one of several charges made by the attorney general's office in the state's ouster suit against Sheriff Arthur C. Mosley.

Howard declined to give any reason for the postponement.

Toppled by an earthquake in 222 B.C., the Colosus of Rhodes lay on the ground for 900 years before it was broken up for scrap in the Seventh Century.
